Foreword

In medieval times the castle was the gathering place for all the subjects of the kingdom. It offered not only protection and security, but was the center of all social life. Here every type of subject from noblest knight to lowliest serf mingled together to enjoy the various diversions, such as the royal balls, the jousting bouts and tournaments, and the countless festivals so prevalent in court life. In addition to these activities, the medieval court also was a strong influence in readying young nobles for a life of high ideals and instilling leadership in their character.

As the castle of olden times provided all these services for the kingdom's subjects, so does Junior College, our own castle on the mount, benefit its students. Here we find the security of an education; the diversion of plays and dances; the annual festivals such as homecoming; and the leadership training we receive in our clubs.

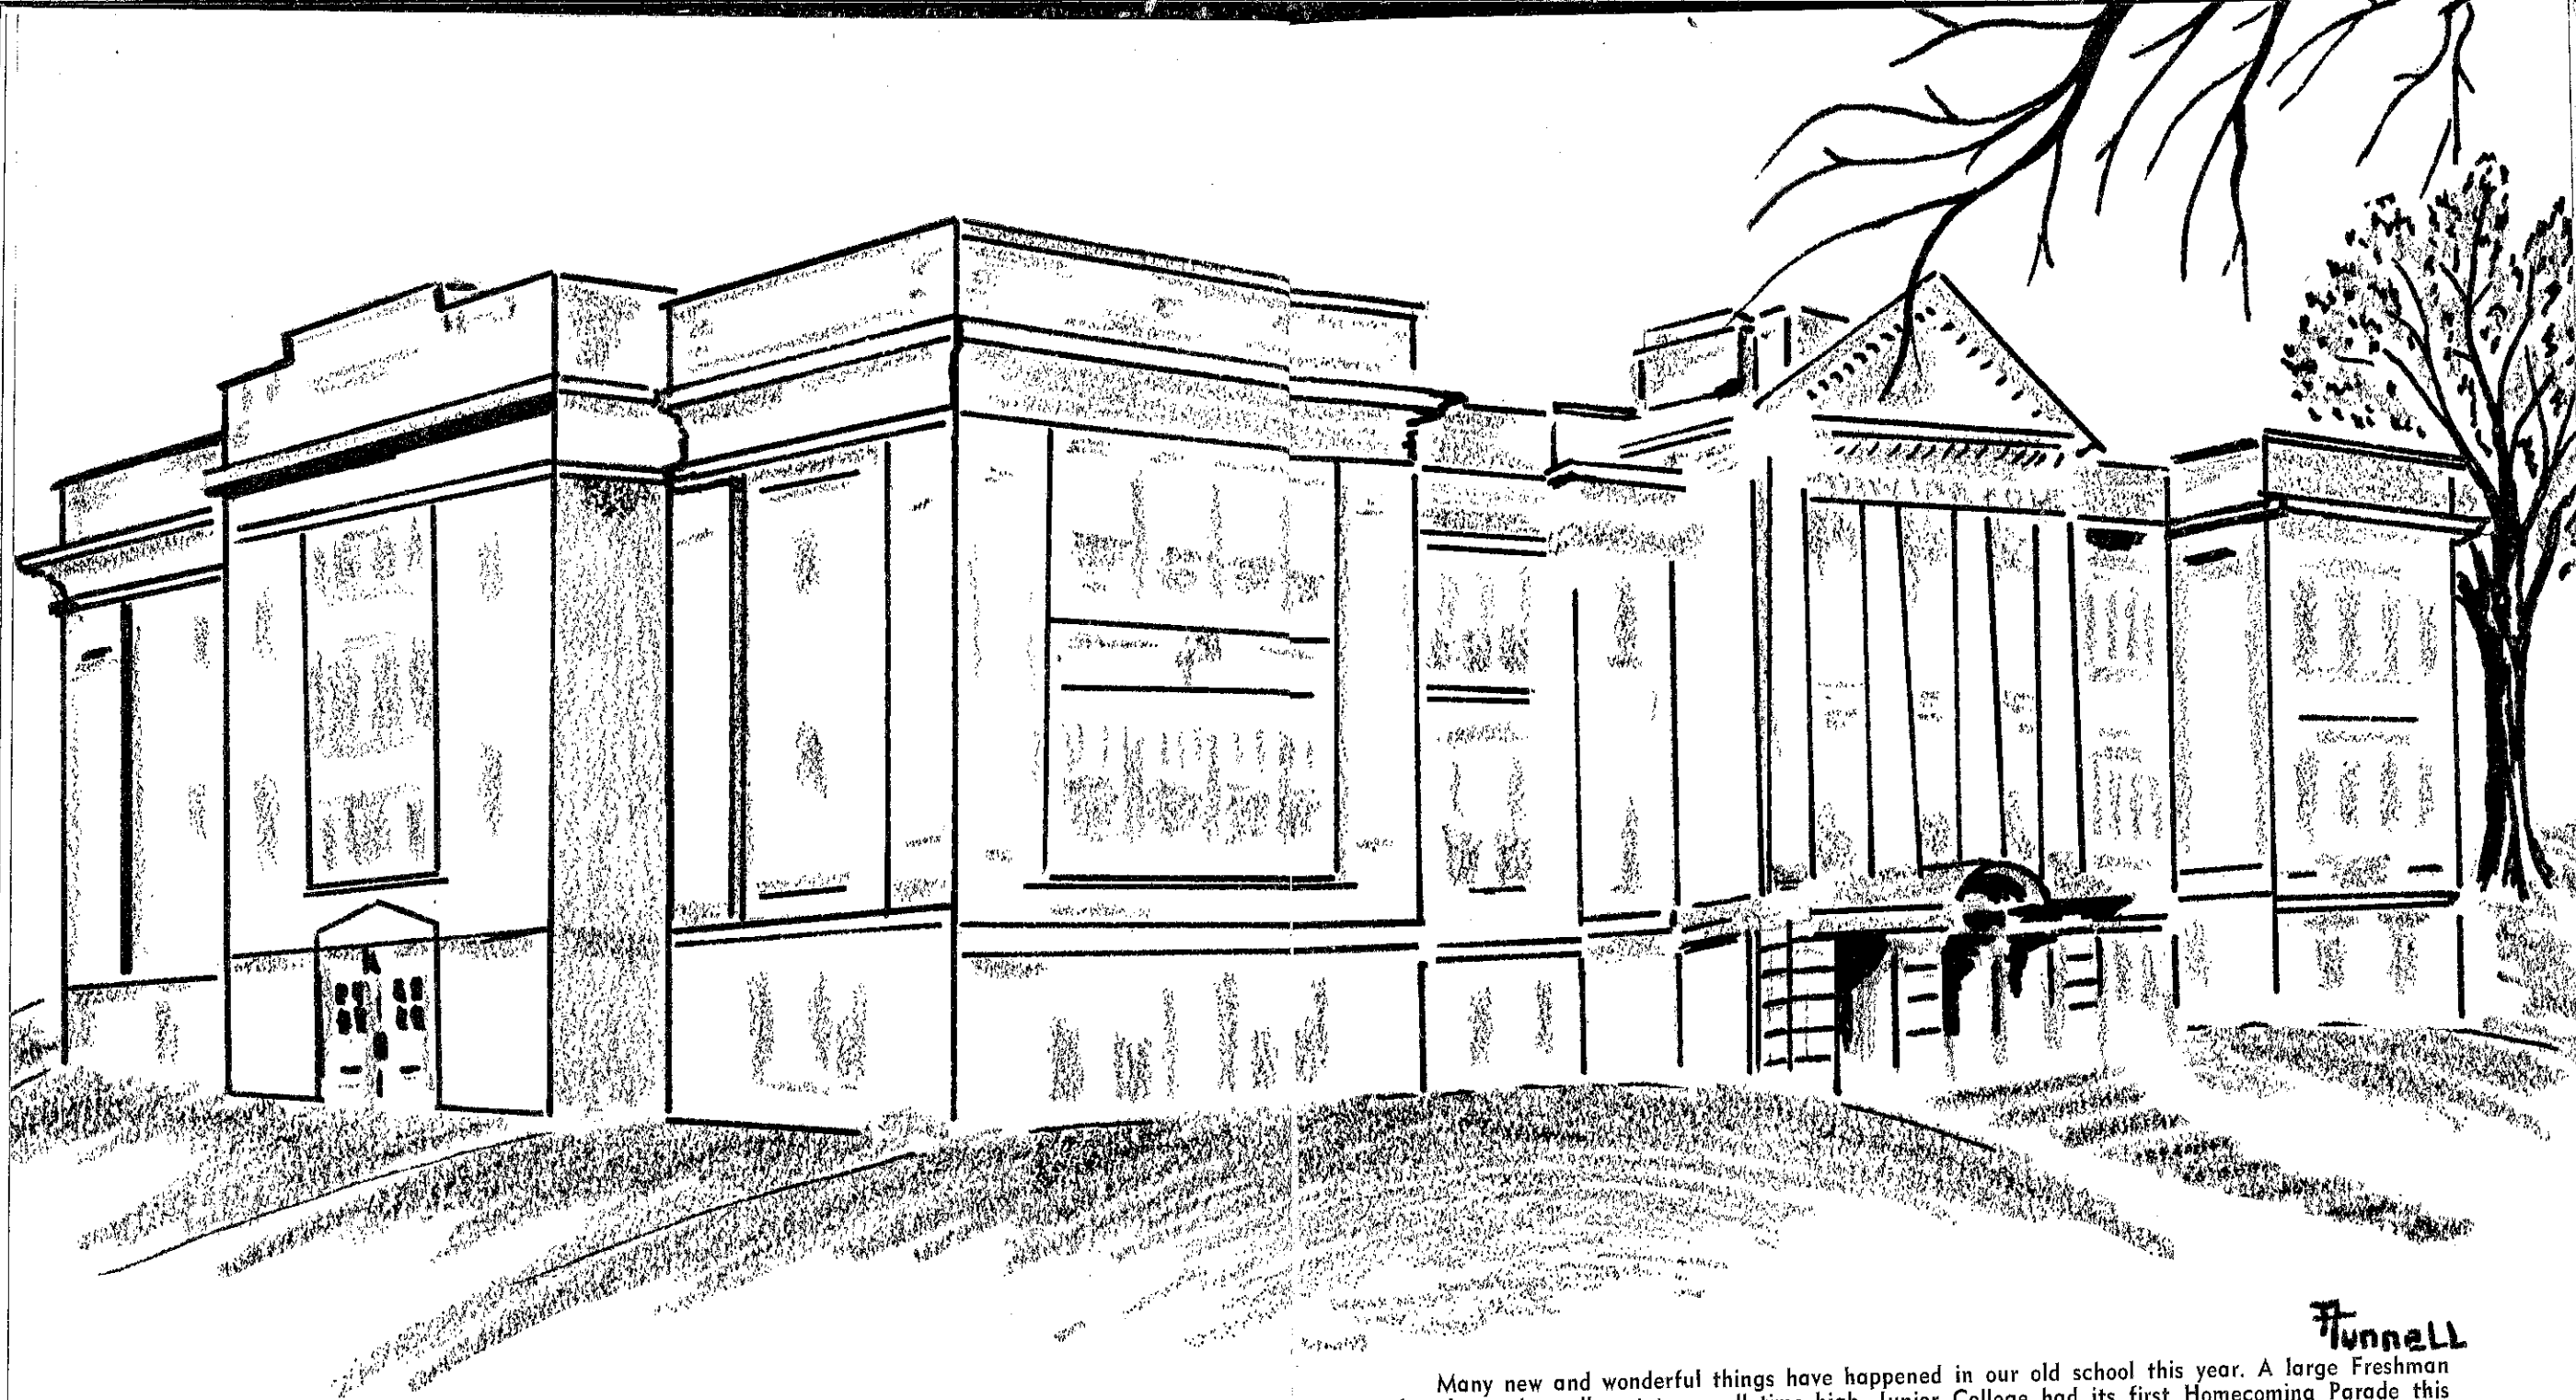

Unlike the medieval court, however, the stay of the Junior College court members is limited. We are allowed to remain for only two years under the protecting spires of our castle. Then we must either journey further into the world to seek additional knowledge or look for our security in other places — some in jobs, others in the service of our country, or still others to take their places in society as parents of future court members.

There are those of us who will remain here at the castle for one more year to guide the newcomers during the coming year, but we too will soon pass through the gates of the castle and join those of you who are now preparing to leave her halls. To those who remain, strive to maintain the honor of the castle and preserve her high ideals — and to those who are leaving, always keep in your memory these same ideals, and with their practice, attain your highest goal.

DEDICATION

The year of 1954-55 has been one of great strides for the Junior College Student Body. School spirit was at its highest all year. An outstanding basketball ticket campaign paved the way for maximum crowds at all the basketball games. With support like this and a good team, J. C. was destined to have a winning season. Attendance at school functions such as the Ice Breaker, convocations, the All-School Play, the Operetta, "Footlights," etc., was better than ever. From the very beginning Junior College seemed to be more alive than any other year; the final result was the founding of the Junior College Alumni Association. Through the combined efforts of the student body president, Art Calloway, the administration, and interested alumni, the long-dreamed of association became a reality. So, with great pride for the fine spirit this year, and with anticipation for the future, we dedicate the 1954-55 yearbook to the Junior College Alumni Association.

Hunnell

To Junior College now we raise
Our voices to acclaim
Two years so full of high ideals
Embodied in her name.

REFRAIN:

Our noble Griffon black and gold
Our guide shall ever be
We'll stand for you
So staunch and true
Our school, our own J. C.

The college friendships we have made
While roaming through your halls
We'll cherish when another day
Our college life recalls.

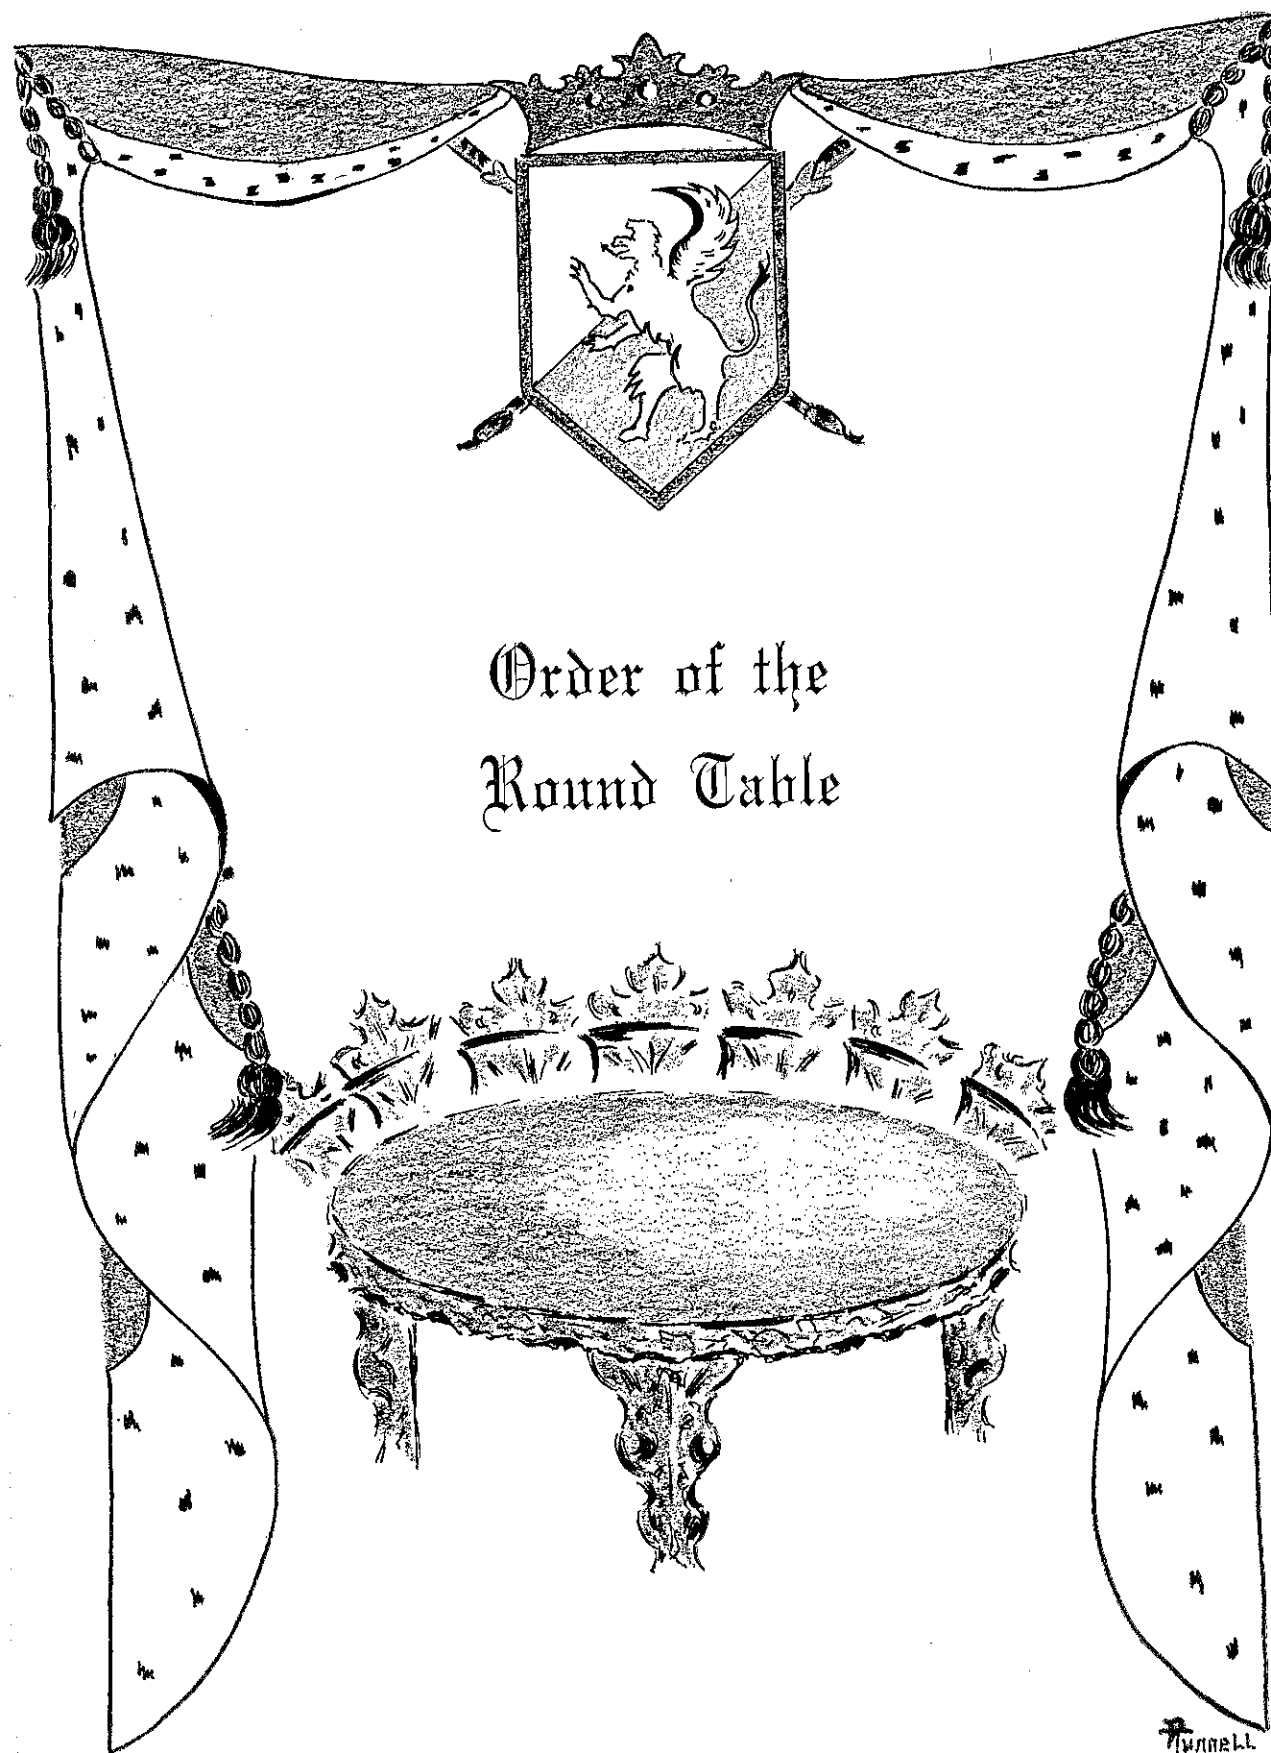

Many new and wonderful things have happened in our old school this year. A large Freshman class boosted enrollment to an all time high. Junior College had its first Homecoming Parade this year, which made people realize that there is more than just a building up here on the hill. Another first this year was the adoption of a school song, written to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne." A student strategy board, designed to give more students a chance to voice their opinions on school matters was tried for the first time. Most important of all, Junior College now has an active Alumni Association. This group may well determine the future of our school.

These are the tangible, readily seen changes that have happened to the school this year, but, important as they seem now, the memories we will have of Junior College will probably be deeper and more enduring. Many friendships that were begun this year will last a lifetime. It is here that we have learned to swallow the prejudices we acquired in high school and to mingle freely with students from all the city high schools and many from outside of St. Joseph. Junior College is the starting place as far as real preparation for lifetime jobs is concerned. Here we get our basic training that could mean success or failure in the future. Junior College tries to help us to mature. Now is the time to grow up — now or never — and Junior College has done her best.

These, then, are the things we shall remember about Junior College.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Behind the supervision of the castle stand Sir George Blackwell, Sir C. M. Coleman, and Sir R. V. Blomfield. These men can always be found backing projects for the betterment of the castle, helping the instructors in the tower, and encouraging the ladies and gentlemen to meet the high scholastic standards which the court imposes. It was because of these gentlemen that the royal dining room and parlors were redecorated and became more comfortable and convenient for the court members.

Mr. G. L. Blackwell, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. C. M. Coleman, Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Instruction; Mr. R. V. Bloomfield, Assistant Superintendent.

DEAN NELLE BLUM

If royalty reigned supreme, our dean would be both king and queen. A queen who possesses the wit and charm, the grace and subtlety needed by one who faces the ladies and gentlemen of the court each day. And a king who must rule with a fist of steel, a heart of diamonds and gold, a will of iron, and yet be ever aware of the dilemmas and problems brought to his attention with each day's rising and lowering sun. Thus, our castle on the mount is ruled over by our Dean Nelle Blum — king and queen of Junior College.

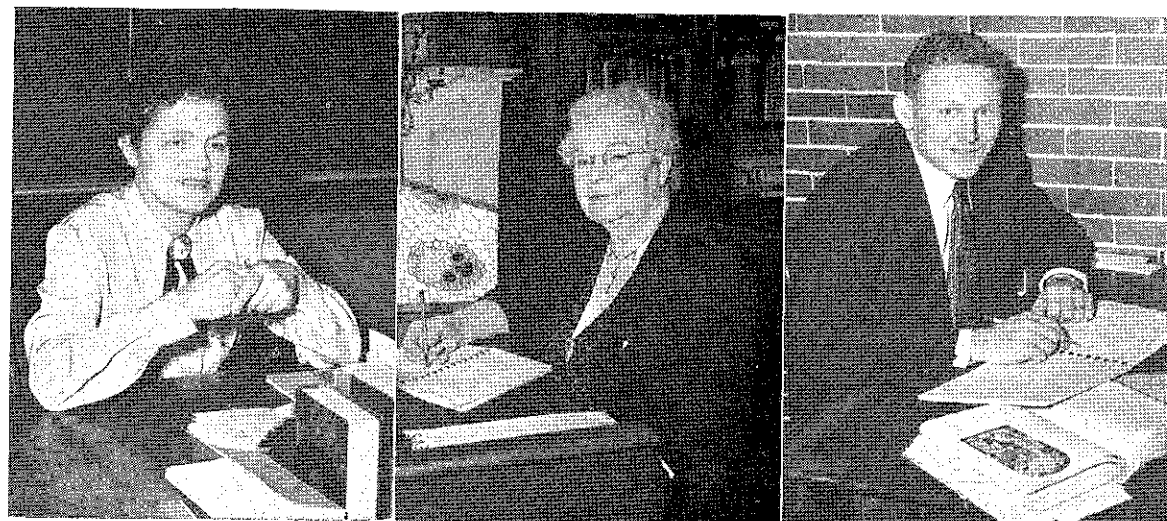

DEAN OF MEN

On the royalty staff, Sir Little acts as an advisor to the king and queen. Besides serving the castle as an efficient chemistry teacher, he also counsels erstwhile students. Being active in student affairs, Sir Little can always be found taking tickets or supervising at the royal balls and jousting bouts.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

PRESIDENT — ART CALLOWAY

VICE-PRESIDENT — GRACE DENTON

Each year in May the Castle holds elections for new lords and ladies to rule over the succeeding court. For this year of 1954-1955, the above officers ably served and capably carried out their respective duties. Also this year for the first time, the castle had the office of treasurer as a separate position in the ruling body.

SECRETARY — JUDY MATTHEWS

TREASURER — SHIRLEY HEUMADER

STUDENT SENATE

CABINET

SECOND SEMESTER SENATE

Sue Walter, Vice-President; David Schadt, President; Delores Moore, Secretary-Treasurer.

Each group at the castle needs a spokesman for their wishes. Such a position do these officers fill for the upper-classmen at the college. The desires of the majority are presented to the king and queen by these representatives. This year the sophomore class presented the college with a badly needed trophy case.

HIGH RANKING STUDENTS

MRS. MARION BUCZEK

Mrs. Buczek has the honor of graduating as the top-ranking woman of her class. She has worked hard during her career here at J. C. and has earned an Associate in Arts Certificate. In addition to her studies, she has been active in Phi Theta Kappa and was in charge of the decoration committee for the annual banquet and initiation. Mrs. Buczek hopes to continue her education at Mount St. Scholastica in Atchison, Kansas.

RICHARD BARNOSKI

This year the highest scholastic honor of our college goes to Dick Barnoski. Besides earning this honor, Dick also had the big task of editing the Griffon News. Although he is undecided about which school he will attend next year, we know that Dick will continue the outstanding work he began here at Junior College by earning his Associate in Science Certificate.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Front row (left to right): Sandra Petrie, historian; Sue Walter, corresponding secretary; Mok Tokko, vice-president; Judy Matthews, treasurer; Dick Barnoski, president; Eleanor Kothe, recording secretary; Sue Lorey. Second row: Miss Harvey, sponsor; Mary Jo Ziph, Bryan Lott, Rosalynne Hancock, Martha Richardson, Joyce James, Marion Buczek, Rosie Zbierski. Third row: David Schadt, Larry Hager, Janet Waller, Carole Miller, Grace Denton, Merna Butterworth, Phyllis Yost, Claudia Baeunlein, Charleen Carolus. Back row: Donna Roberts, L. R. Switzer, Howard Miller, C. M. Corbet, J. L. Davis, James Bailey, Carol Robinson, Ralph Hicks, Thomas Kalin.

Phi Theta Kappa is a group of young men and women of the court who have maintained a high scholastic ranking. Miss Marion Harvey sponsors the group. Our division, Kappa, represented the first co-educational school admitted into the fraternity, which is non-active in almost all junior colleges in this country. The inset is Howard Miller, who was elected national vice-president at the annual convention.

The Junior College branch of Delta Psi Omega National Dramatics Fraternity is under the auspices of Miss Louise Lacy. The goal of the organization is to encourage a more active interest in the drama and to honor those students who have earned enough points through dramatic participation to be admitted to the fraternity.

Early in the history of our beloved school the need for acknowledgement of outstanding students was recognized. Thus in 1936 the Mace was organized to give these students the recognition they deserved and to encourage their helpful activities.

These select few are voted into the Mace by the old members and must have been very active during the school year to be qualified for the Mace.

It has been the practice of the organization to take in only three members, but because of the unusually large number of students who qualified, the Mace this year elected eight new members.

Mace membership is one of the most coveted positions in the school, for it represents the outstanding student.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

This group is the hardest working group of the school. They work from the first week of the term to the last week trying to complete an entire, original book. Any spare time that these students might have is devoted to taking pictures, writing copy, or any of the other million and one details connected with producing a yearbook. The major part of the work, of course, is on the shoulders of the editors who must supervise, compile, and edit all the work of the staff. The editors and staff would like to say at this time that they hope you, the students of J. C., will get as much enjoyment out of this book as they had—regardless of the hard work — in bringing it to you.

STAFF

The daily happenings in the court are published every other week in the Griffon News by the hardworking members of the staff. Without these students, this bi-weekly publication could not be presented and enjoyed by everyone — so — to the the members of the staff, our thanks for keeping our comments and our activities before our eyes.

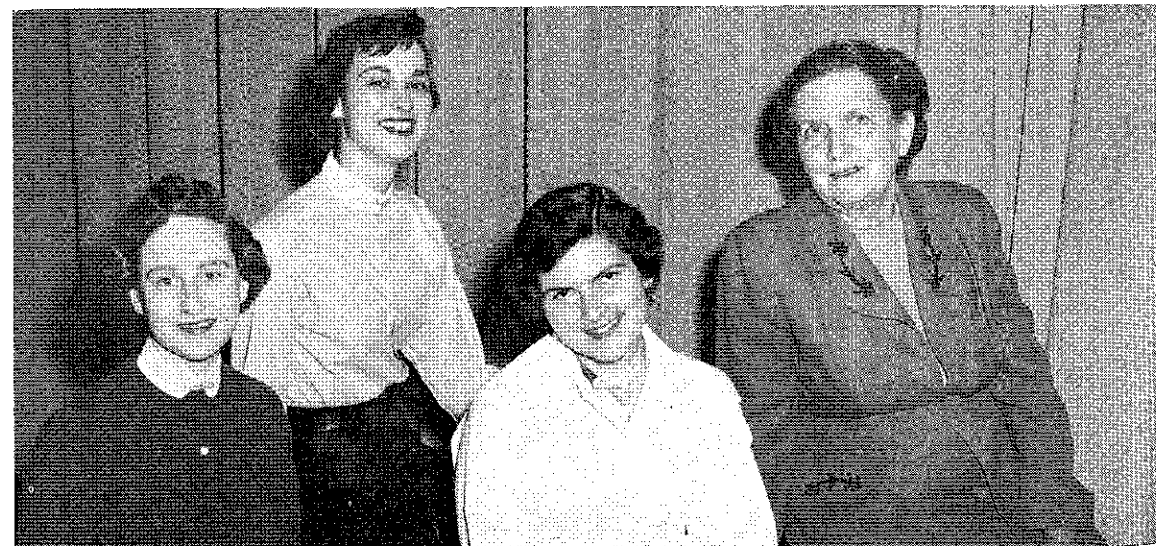

DRAMATICS WORK SHOP

Front row (left to right): Judy Matthews, Gloria Hinson, Miss Louise Lacy, sponsor; Judy Murrell, Norma Bigham. Second row: Sue Lorey, Alene Mueller, Beverly Martin, Carol Shady. Third row: Bob Hautzenroeder, Barbara Cohrs, Shirley Heumader, Gloria Summers, Chuck Adkins, Olive Ann Cox, Joan Wolf. Back row: Roger Duncan, Stanley Harrison, Dona Fay Miller, Jerry Greenberg, Phyllis Miller, Jim Augustine, J. E. Corcoran.

Before Delta Psi Omega was organized at Junior College, a Dramatics Club was in being. This year, because of the duplication present in the formation of Delta Psi Omega, a Dramatics Workshop was organized. In addition to producing two one-act plays, "The Happy Journey" and "Rehearsal," the members of the Workshop helped point scenery, build sets, and secure costumes for the all-school play and the operetta. Miss Louise Lacy sponsors the Workshop along with Delta Psi Omega.

Cheshire Cheese, the Junior College literary club, is for the purpose of encouraging the appreciation of good literature, and stimulating original writings among the students. Membership is gained through the submission of an original work and a critical review. Each year the club's activities are highlighted by the publication of "Penny Whistles," which contains the best student writings as selected by the board members.

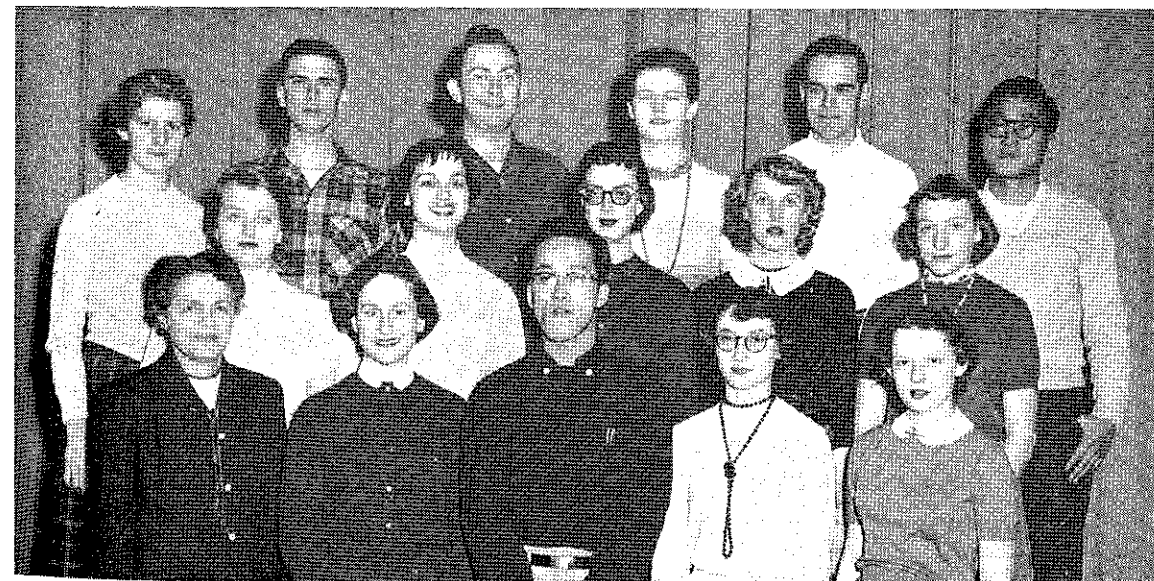

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club desires to promote fluency in the practical use of Spanish, and an interest in, and understanding of, the Spanish-speaking countries. All programs and meetings are conducted in Spanish. Miss Helen Brown sponsors the club which meets with the other language clubs at the end of the year for the International Picnic.

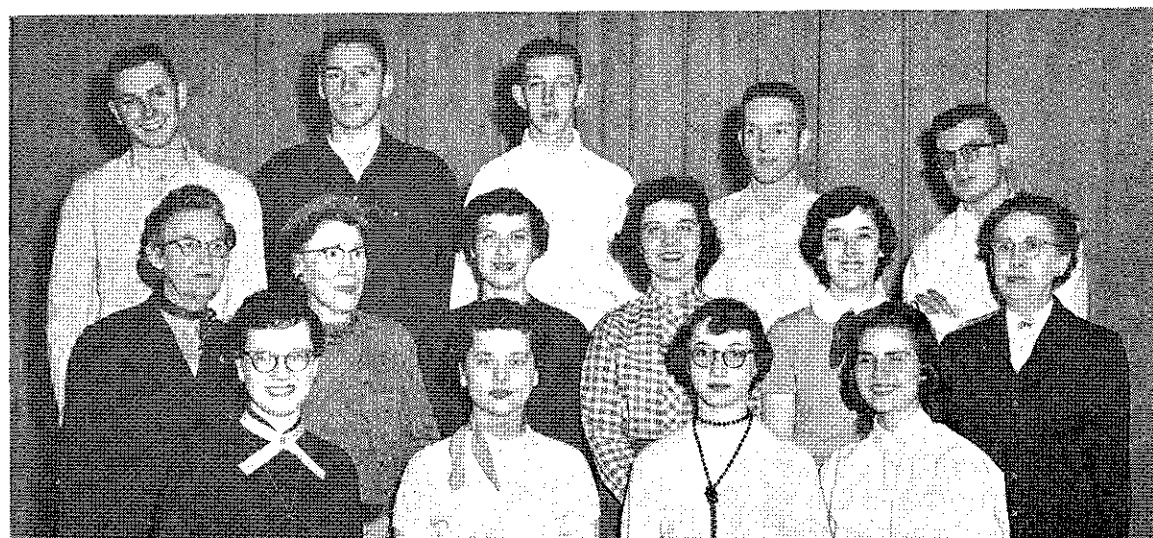

FRENCH CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Miss Clara Albrecht, the French Club is for the purpose of acquainting the members with France, its people and its customs. It also serves to develop the speaking ability and understanding of the French language. To become a member, a student must complete one semester of French with a passing grade.

Built on the premise of "art for art's sake," an Art Club is essential in a growing college community. Stimulating design, painting, and drawing among talented students of the college is the purpose of the club. Each year the Art Club journeys to a nearby art gallery and has several sketching parties. Miss Ina Culver sponsors this group.

Front row: Elaine Yates, Beverly Martin, secretary; Shirley Burnside, president; Olive Ann Cox, vice-president; Gloria Hinson, Evelyn Guyton, Carolyn Chaney. Second row: Mary Dale Flora, Helen R. Guyton, Gloria Summers, Charleen Carolus, Sarah Keller, Betsy Sinclair, Dorothy Ann Bregin. Third row: Joyce James, Cornelia Barnes, Mary Lou Briner, Claudia Baeunlein, Joan Wolf, Danny Brannan, Donna Moad. Back row: Glenda Steele, Carol Robinson, Gary Gibson, Don Sklenar, Bob Alcorn, Howard Keling, treasurer; Marian Harrison, Beulah Smith.

The primary requirement for membership in the Psychology Club is a sincere interest in human nature. Meetings are held every other Tuesday at the State Hospital where programs and parties are held for the patients. The purpose of the club is to extend the friendliness of the students of Junior College to the patients at the State Hospital.

Front row (left to right): Dick Barnoski, Donna Moad, Pat Wilson, historian; Larry E. Hager, president; Barbara Cohrs, Carole Miller, Billie Cobb, Sidney Harris. Second row: Miss Andrews, sponsor; Bob Sprague, Larry Powell, Bette Carroll. Third row: Barbara Graff, Ellen Thompson, Eleanor Kothe, secretary; Carol Shady, treasurer; Betsy Sinclair, Bryan Lott. Back row: Ralph Lieb, Bob Bush, Howard Keling, vice-president; Larry Strawn, Ralph Hicks, Arthur Maynard, Larry Whittington, David Schadt.

Under the guidance of Miss Orrel Andrews, the Natural Science Club was organized to encourage the study of natural science and to assist in the advancement of the St. Joseph Museum. Each year money is raised by the club for the Endowment Fund of the museum. This year the club presented the Science Kermis which featured everything from a style show to a mother sow and her pigs.

NEWMAN CLUB

This club is open to all Catholic students attending the college. The objectives of the National Newman Club Federation, "to deepen the spiritual, and enrich the temporal lives of its members through a balanced program of social, religious, and intellectual activities," are found in the Wednesday night meetings of the club. Father John Quinn is chaplain.

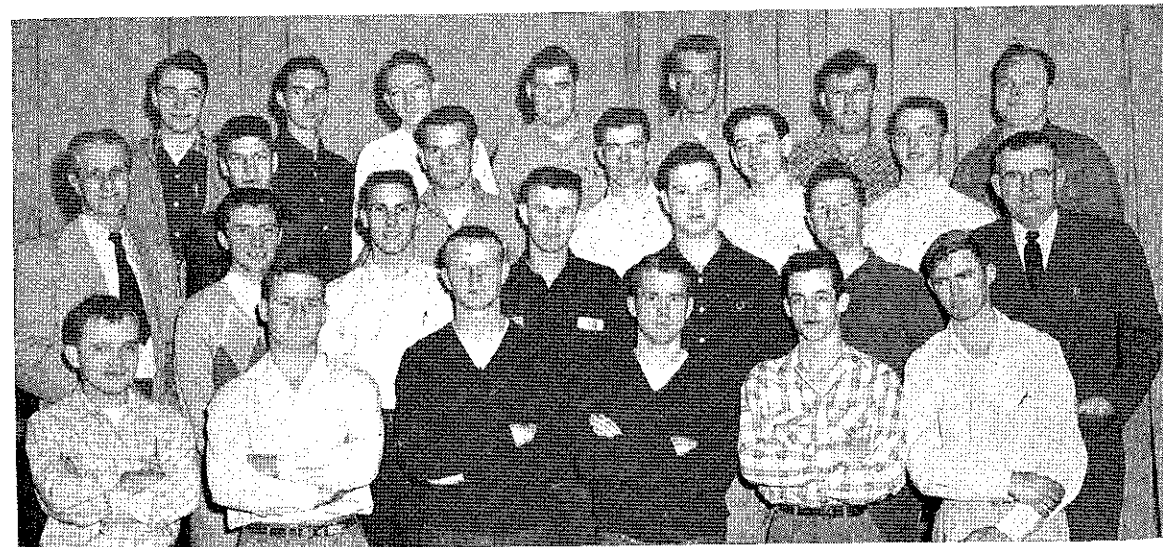

VETERANS CLUB

Front row (left to right): Bob Phelps, Sidney Harris, Paul Fisher, George Rock, president; Ralph Lieb, Mr. Roland Lanser, sponsor. Second row: Nelson Gawatz, Charles Holland, Art Calloway, Rex Lyon, secretary-treasurer; Howard Keling, Charles Wachter, Paul Carolus. Third row: Bob Littlejohn, Bill Clark, Joseph Kerner, Ronald Taff, William Essman, Paul Bohr. Back row: Donald Jessee, David Blackburn, Ralph Hicks, C. M. Corbet, W. R. Landess, Stanley Casper, R. L. Birmingham, R. J. Fairlie.

The Veterans Club was organized last year to encourage the veterans to take a more active interest in school affairs. Any veteran sincerely interested in becoming more closely connected with the school is urged to join.

ENGINEERS CLUB

Front row: Bob Phelps, Bob Bauman, Bill Willis, Larry Goodwin, Bryan Lott, John Corcoran. Second row: G. E. Marion, sponsor; Dick Barnoski, Howard Miller, Jack Stout, Dan Linebaugh, Phil Forbes, E. C. Little, sponsor. Third row: Melvin Fulcher, Darrell Lile, Garnett Hecker, secretary; Bill Yarnell, Jim Schiltz. Back row: Bob Eads, Jim Walsh, Richard Olson, Herb Hazelwood, vice-president; Bill Dudgeon, Vernon Ottinger, treasurer; Paul Fisher.

The Engineers Club is open to all students who are studying to become engineers; civil, architectural, etc. The club usually takes trips to various industries in the territory to get first-hand information about their future work. This year the club took a two-day trip to Rolla School of Mines. The club is sponsored by Mr. Little and Mr. Marion.

CHOIR

The choir takes time out for an informal song-fest around the piano.

Accompanists: Glenda Steele and Mary Abmeyer

Accompanists: Mary Jo Ziph and Mary Lou Stover

Front row (left to right): Mary Lou Stover, Gloria Summers, Judy Murrell, Sue Lorey, Marjorie Jackson, Gloria Hinson, Mary Abmeyer, Marian Harrison. Second row: Carol Shady, Helen Guyton, Twyla Lane, Evelyn Guyton, Richard Pixler. Third row: Art Campbell, Byron Myers, Phyllis Yost, Beverly Jordan, Forrest Leonard. Fourth row: Shirley Heumader, Mary Dale Flora, Donna McElfresh, Luella Ratcliff. Fifth row: Chuck Adkins, Bill Oxford, Frances Swyhart, Phyllis Miller, Shirley Burnside. Sixth row: Jerry Greenberg, Stanley Harrison, Jim Augustine, Pat Wilson. Back row: Farrell Adkins, Roger Duncan, Glenda Steele, Dona Fay Miller, Janet Waller.

The Junior College Choir is open to all students who like to sing. Besides singing for the students, the choir takes a trip of the surrounding territory with hope of encouraging students to attend J. C. This year the choir took an all-day trip to Union Star, Rosendale, and Savannah. Each year the choir presents an operetta for the entertainment of the students and guests. The operetta this year was Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller."

Under the able leadership of Richard Pixler, our pep band was present at all our basketball games, pep meetings, and formal convocations and had much to do with the wonderful school spirit so evident in Junior College this year.

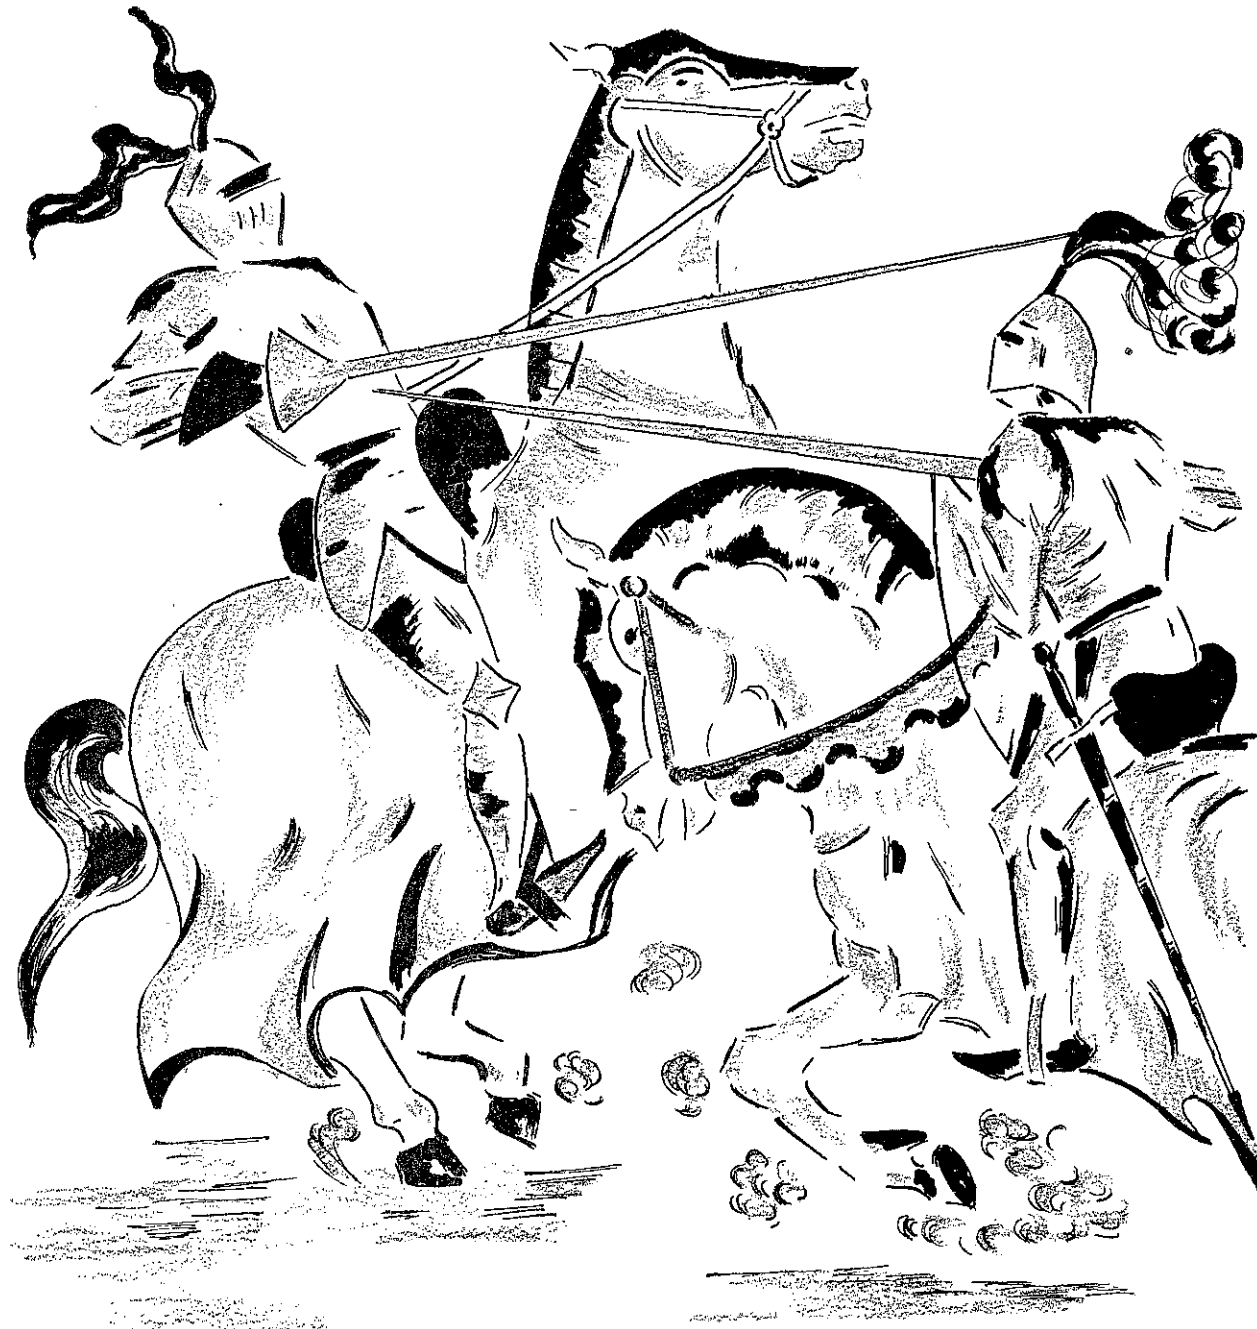

GERMAN CLUB

The newly reorganized German Club is sponsored by Miss Clara Albrecht. Like the other language clubs, the German Club's purpose is to develop the students' ability to use German in conversation and promote interest in the German culture and people.
