An aerial, black and white photograph of a college campus. The campus is situated on a hillside, with several large, multi-story buildings. A river or stream flows through the foreground and middle ground, curving around the campus. The surrounding landscape is hilly and appears to be a mix of natural terrain and developed areas. The text "Missouri Western— Your College Your Future" is overlaid on the center of the image.

STAFF

Missouri Western is composed of many capable and interested people. They are willing to work with you with patience and understanding, most of all definite interest. With the help and interest that a student is willing to provide the staff members can operate more smoothly. Only with an efficient staff can a school run smoothly.

M A I N T E N A N C E

Happy and helpful maintenance personnel, headed by Charley Atha keep the college in repair and clean. The importance of these men is cited by the increasing number needed to work on grounds and buildings on the new campus. These men have had a major problem in maintaining present facilities and keeping up with work at the new campus.

CLASS

Juniors and Seniors will be added to the classes next year at Missouri Western. However, personal attention will continue to be a major emphasis as the college grows.

Sophomore Class Officers

Sophomore class officers for 1968-69 were Ron Fleckal, president; Pat McGlothlin, secretary; Diana Vetter, treasurer; and Mike Dewey, vice-president.

ACADEMICS

Missouri Western College offers challenging study opportunities in a variety of fields. The College offers capable faculty, necessary teaching aids and stimulating curricula. The student must provide the desire to learn.

All members of the Division of Applied Science and Technology.

APPLIED SCIENCE and TECHNOLOGY

Dr. Harvey Oates, new director of the Division, ponders the next program in the rapidly expanding division.

This is the first year of operation for this division which offers a variety of programs, from the one-year certificate to the four-year baccalaureate degree. Additional occupational programs are being offered and prepared with the unique "Two-Plus-Two" program. Students who have an Associate Degree may return to college and work toward a Bachelor of Technology Degree.

Department chairman, Mr. Don Grainger, lectures to a class.

Miss Jane Ownbey teaches office machines and shorthand.

Business and Economics Department members gathered for a briefing during faculty orientation at the Country Club.

Typing, secretarial dictation and transcription are among the subjects of Miss Merlene Copelin.

Mrs. Mitchell teaches math in business.

Good typing practice.

Business and Economics

Secretarial training.

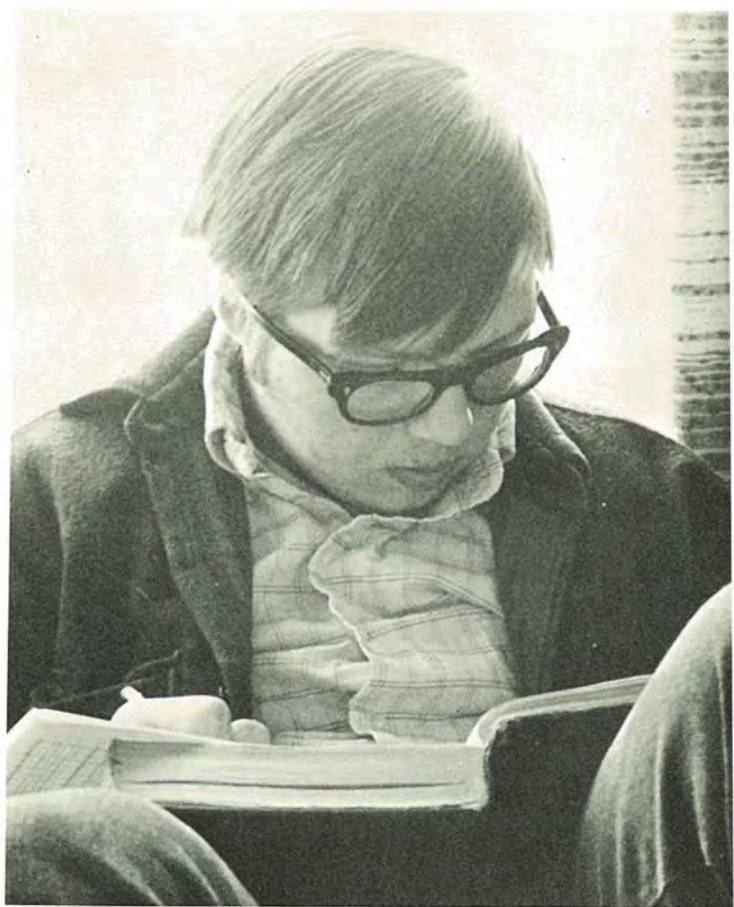

An outline is used by Mrs. ShROUT.

Mr. Finders was here half the year.

Practical application.

Mr. Sireno contemplates a point.

Students test their skills with the 1130 equipment.

Tool of Tomorrow

Mr. Bishop explains the program.

Double-checking computer programming systems.

Computer Science Department members, chairman, William Wood; Miss Sandra Keller, and Mr. George Bishop.

Students in Computer Science prepare themselves to understand and participate in the use of data processing machines that acquire, organize and process information. These machines have already made an indelible impact on nearly all areas of human endeavor, and conservative estimates indicate the need for personnel trained to communicate with these machines will triple by 1975.

Miss Keller checking a run-off.

Engineering and Technology

Mr. Marion talks about stresses.

Mr. Pawling explains testing.

Meters mean something.

Mr. Holman tells about electronics.

A small division but one dealing with a large group of students.

EDUCATION and PSYCHOLOGY

Dr. Charles Coyne is director of the Division.

The total process of learning and application with popularity among the people. A new teacher education program has sent sophomores into area schools. Physical Education has a definite place in the development of the body and Psychology helps to develop the mind.

Elementary and Secondary Education

Students who wish to become elementary or secondary teachers or other educational specialists learn to use and understand principles of learning, human growth and development and interpersonal relationships.

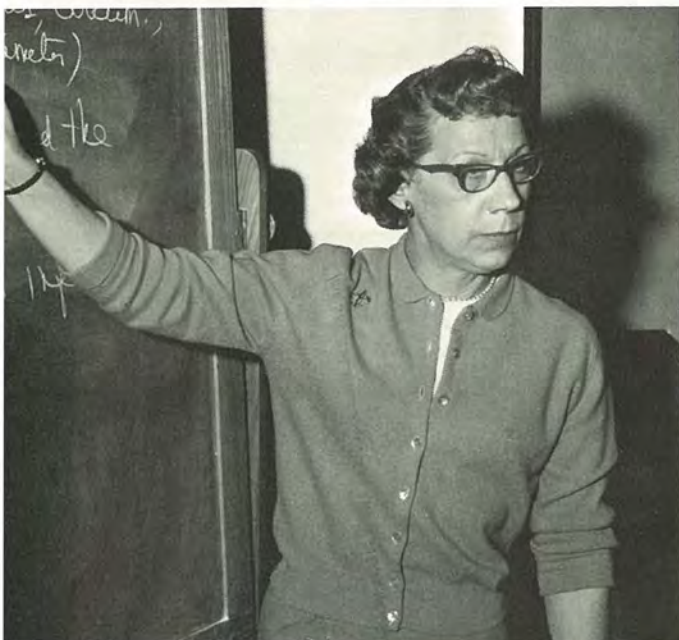

Dr. Haynes plans for another series of school visits.

Sophomore participation places prospective teachers in the classroom early in their education.

Mrs. Gettys handles board work.

Mrs. Gettys and Dr. Haynes check reports on classroom work.

Dr. McCann smiles at retort.

Here's where it all comes from.

Mr. West sans beard.

Psychology or Strategy?

A greater understanding through a knowledge of the motives behind human actions.

Dr. Haynes handles General Psych.

Physical Education

How's this for form?

The ball is supposed to go over the net.

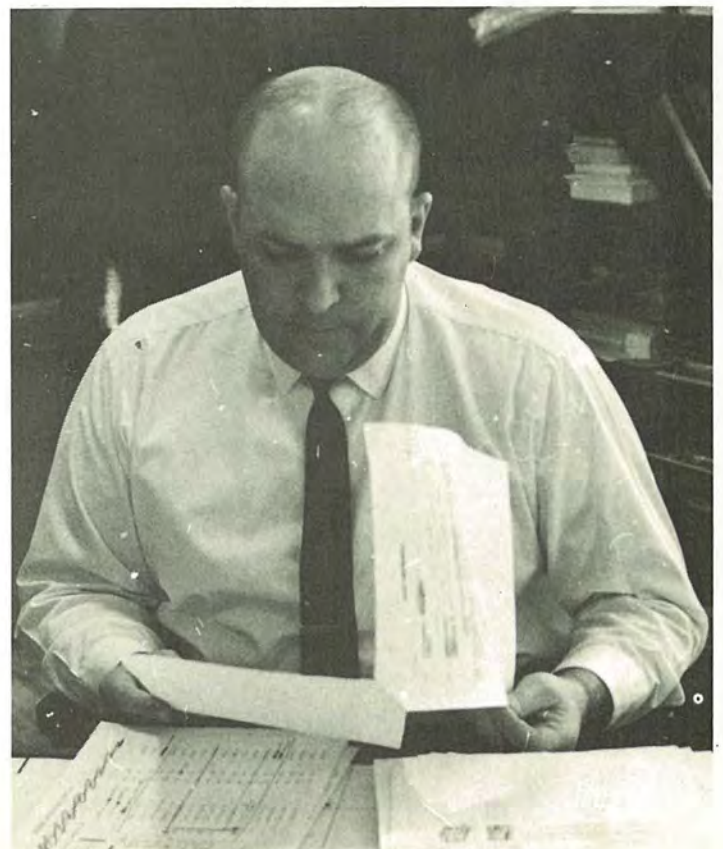

The largest group at Missouri Western, members of the Division of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

LIBERAL ARTS and SCIENCES

Division director is Dr. Bob Scott.

The Division is composed of departments ranging from Biology to Social Science. Coming in between are the departments of Chemistry, Fine Arts, Humanities and Communications, and Physics and Mathematics. Next year, there will be a department of English.

Biology

Students in the department are concerned with the study of life, both plant and animal, at all levels of complexity and work in new laboratories using the most sophisticated tools and techniques available. The core of knowledge offered often serves as a background for advanced specialization in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, optometry, forestry and veterinary medicine.

Mr. Richard Crumley takes a class on a field trip to the Biology reserve on the new campus.

Department chairman, Mr. Harry Force, is happy with the progress of the new Biology curriculum.

Mr. Don Robbins explains what happens when the first incision is made.

Mr. Thomas Rachow doubles in Biology and Chemistry, handling labs in both.

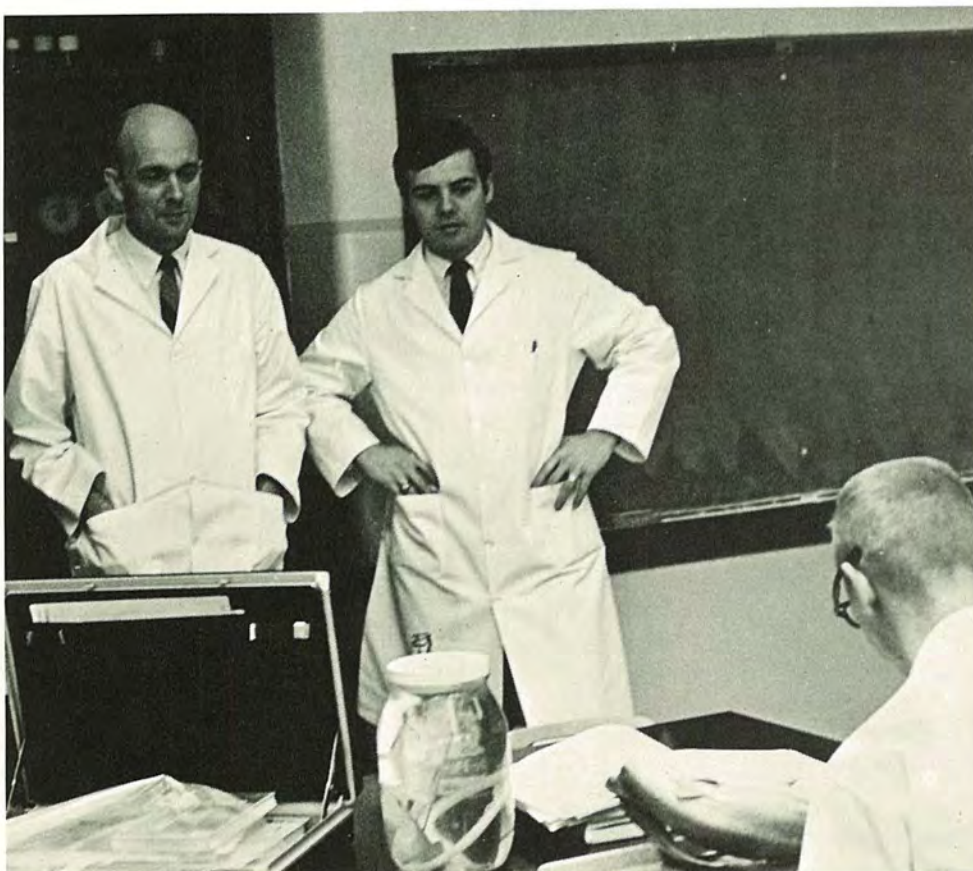

Mr. Lepo explains lab procedures to a bewildered student.

Pithing a frog allows the student to observe some of the metabolic processes of the frog without its suffering.

Mr. Wiese explains to the awed Mr. Rachow that his students do good work.

Nancy Spence, a botany student, plucks a specimen.

John Redmond is chairman of the department and readily discusses formulae with students.

Mrs. Ballew brightens the day with a cheery smile.

Chemistry

Mr. Bensyl continues to increase his knowledge.

The department deals with a core of knowledge that is essential to much of the important scientific experimentation that continually influences our daily lives in the modern world.

Mr. Lambing records a mid-term grade.

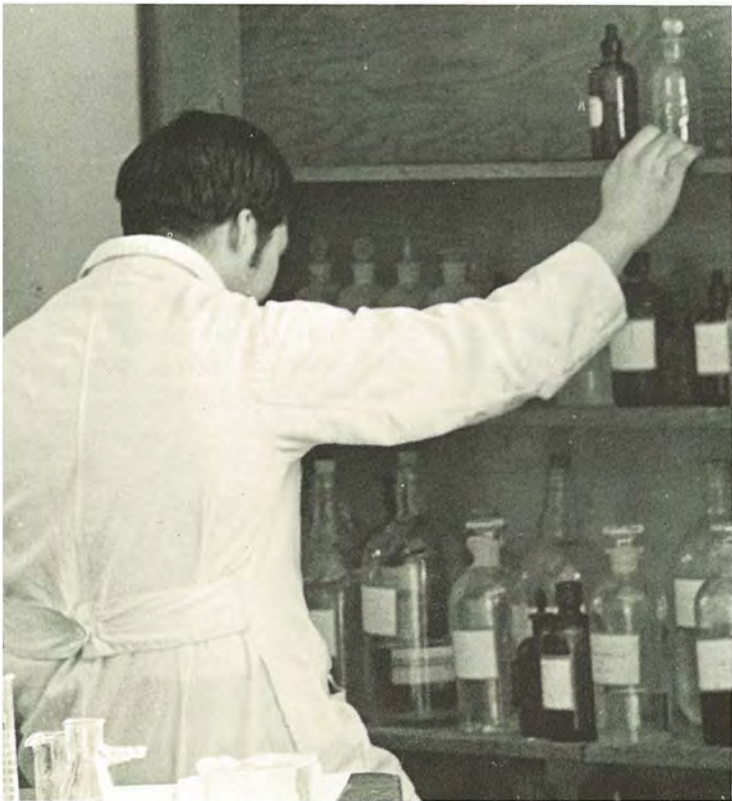

Mr. Archer pours.

Mrs. Heckel explains an experiment.

Where's that bottle?

Department chairman, Mrs. Roberta Riemer works with the string ensemble.

Fine Arts

F. Matthew Gilmour teaches the various phases of music.

The Fine Arts Department provides courses and activities for cultural enrichment of students as well as for people from the community who may or may not be interested in getting a degree. Both day and evening classes are offered in the department.

Practicing for perfection.

Mr. Hughes shows the procedure.

Mrs. Groh makes notes.

Mr. Jenkins' holding action.

Mr. Sandstad checks the sketchers.

A pleasant smile from Miss Durham.

Miss Decker's stay was only 1 year.

Miss Doherty explains Shakespeare.

Studying for the next quiz.

Miss Flanagan
on leave

Humanities and

The department brings together an often widely scattered core of knowledge and experience and examines it from two points of view. The Humanities point centers around the human being—his aspirations, his potentialities, his relationships with his fellow man.

Mrs. Ertman uses the rear screen projector.

Miss Doherty explains a point.

Communications

The communications point of view centers around the transactions between human beings that involve an expression and exchange of ideas in writing and speaking, and it is from an understanding of this process that a picture of the total human being emerges.

Using the library for study.

Miss Gibbs prepares for class.

Mr. Harden served as acting department chairman for the second semester.

Rabbi Meyer pounds the podium for emphasis.

Miss Poppino hastily flies through her notes for a quick answer.

Mr. Pitter calmly waits for student response.

The favorite pastime of Madam Hoffman is grading French compositions.

H & C

Mr. Vargas waits for reply.

Mr. Taylor checks a quiz.

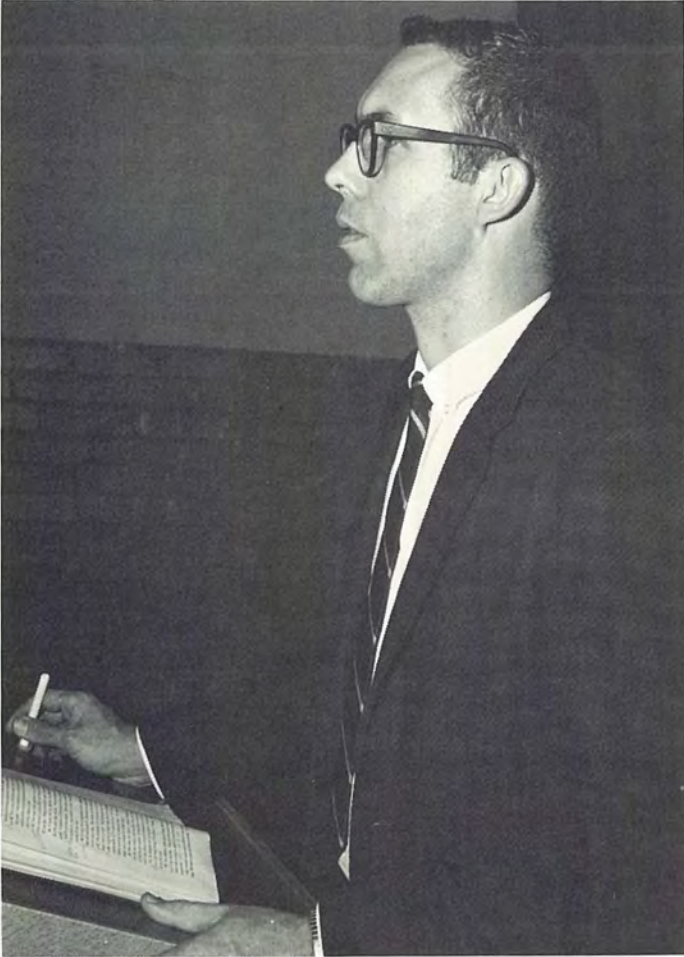

Mrs. Tomlinson reviews assignment.

Mrs. Vehlow discusses grammar.

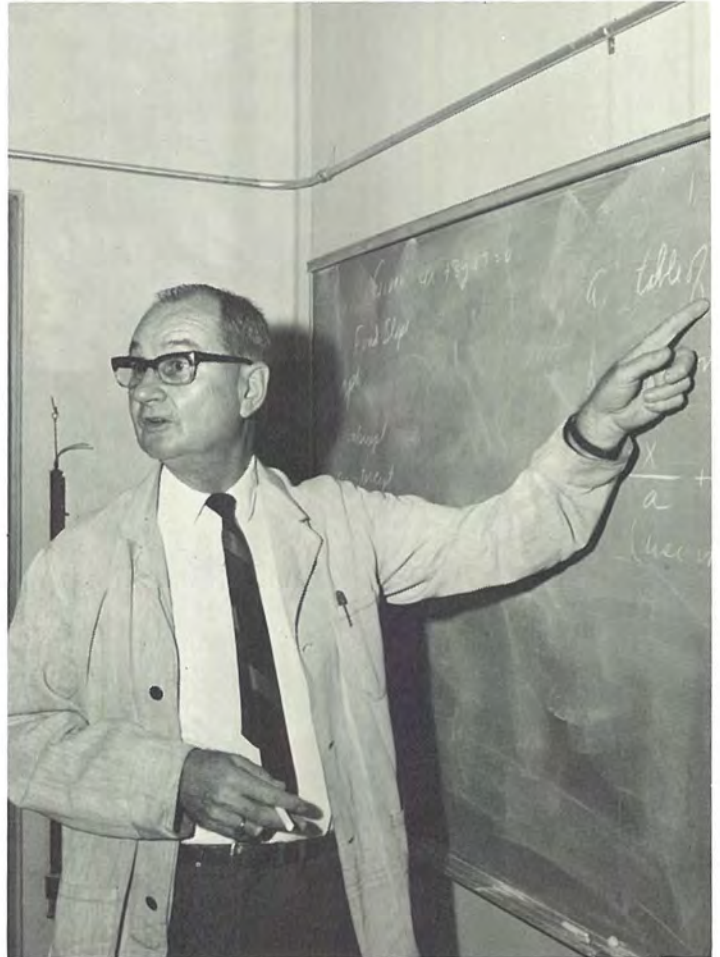

Checking a Spanish magazine.

Mr. Bill Huston lectures.

Department chairman, Mr. Evan Agenstein, talks about motion.

Physics and Mathematics

Now what was that formula?

The department contributes to the liberal education of all students and provides specialized work designed for students who need a more thorough background in these fields for government, industry and educational institutions. Some specific positions which often demand students to elect a curriculum in this department are the air and space programs, government research, radio and television.

At the orientation, Physics and Mathematics Department members, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Miller, Mr. Schmitz, Mr. Huston, Mr. Wilkerson, and chairman, Evan Agenstein.

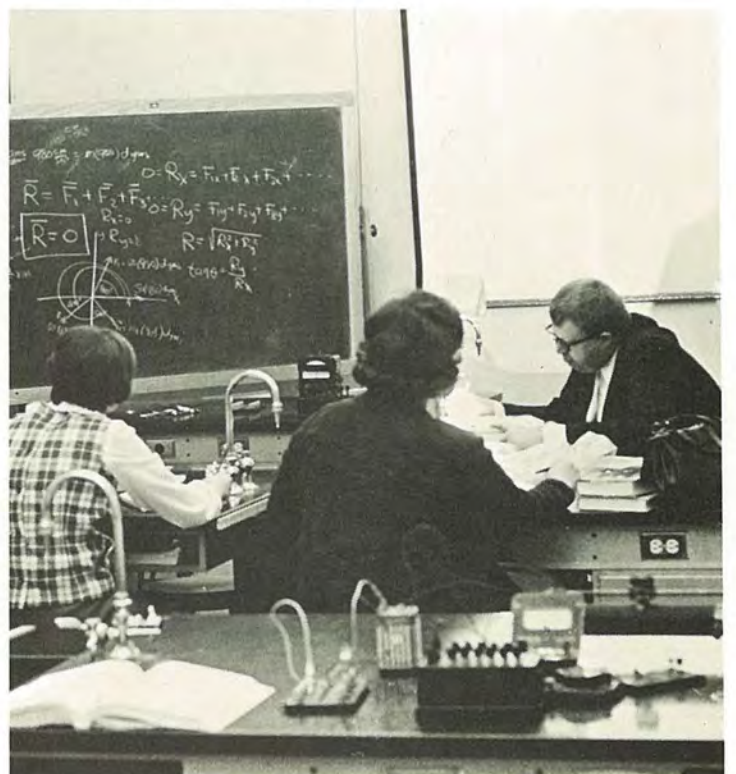

Mr. Schmitz makes a point.

Looks like it's test time!

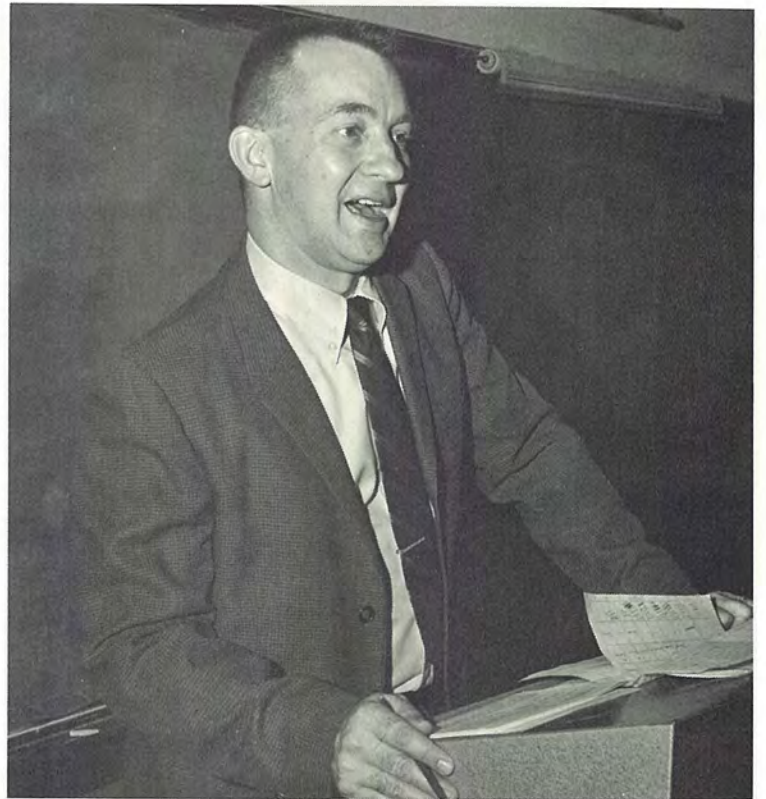

Mr. Johnston lectures with blackboard and rear screen.

Social Science

Mrs. Alberts smiles at a student's reaction.

Mr. Heim tells it like it is.

Mr. Jordan talks about the French Revolution.

Miss Harvey explains Sociology.

A study of human societies to understand their history, their components, their varieties, and their behavior. These sciences study the change, organization and disorganization of societies. In addition, they examine the varieties of people in society, their character and conduct, and the evidences of their human nature.

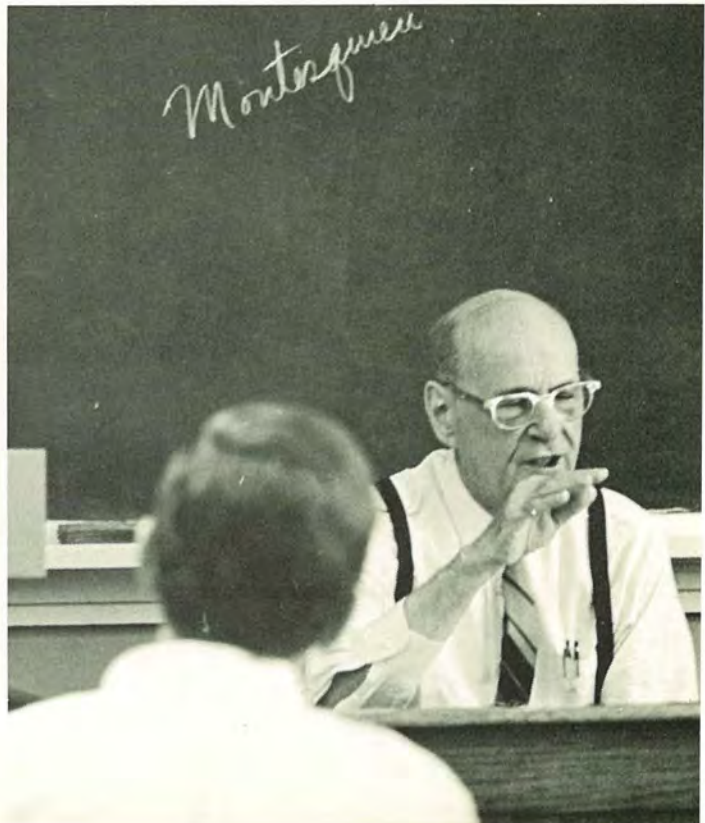

Miss Phelan is Student Government Association adviser in addition to her teaching duties which include a new course in Latin America.

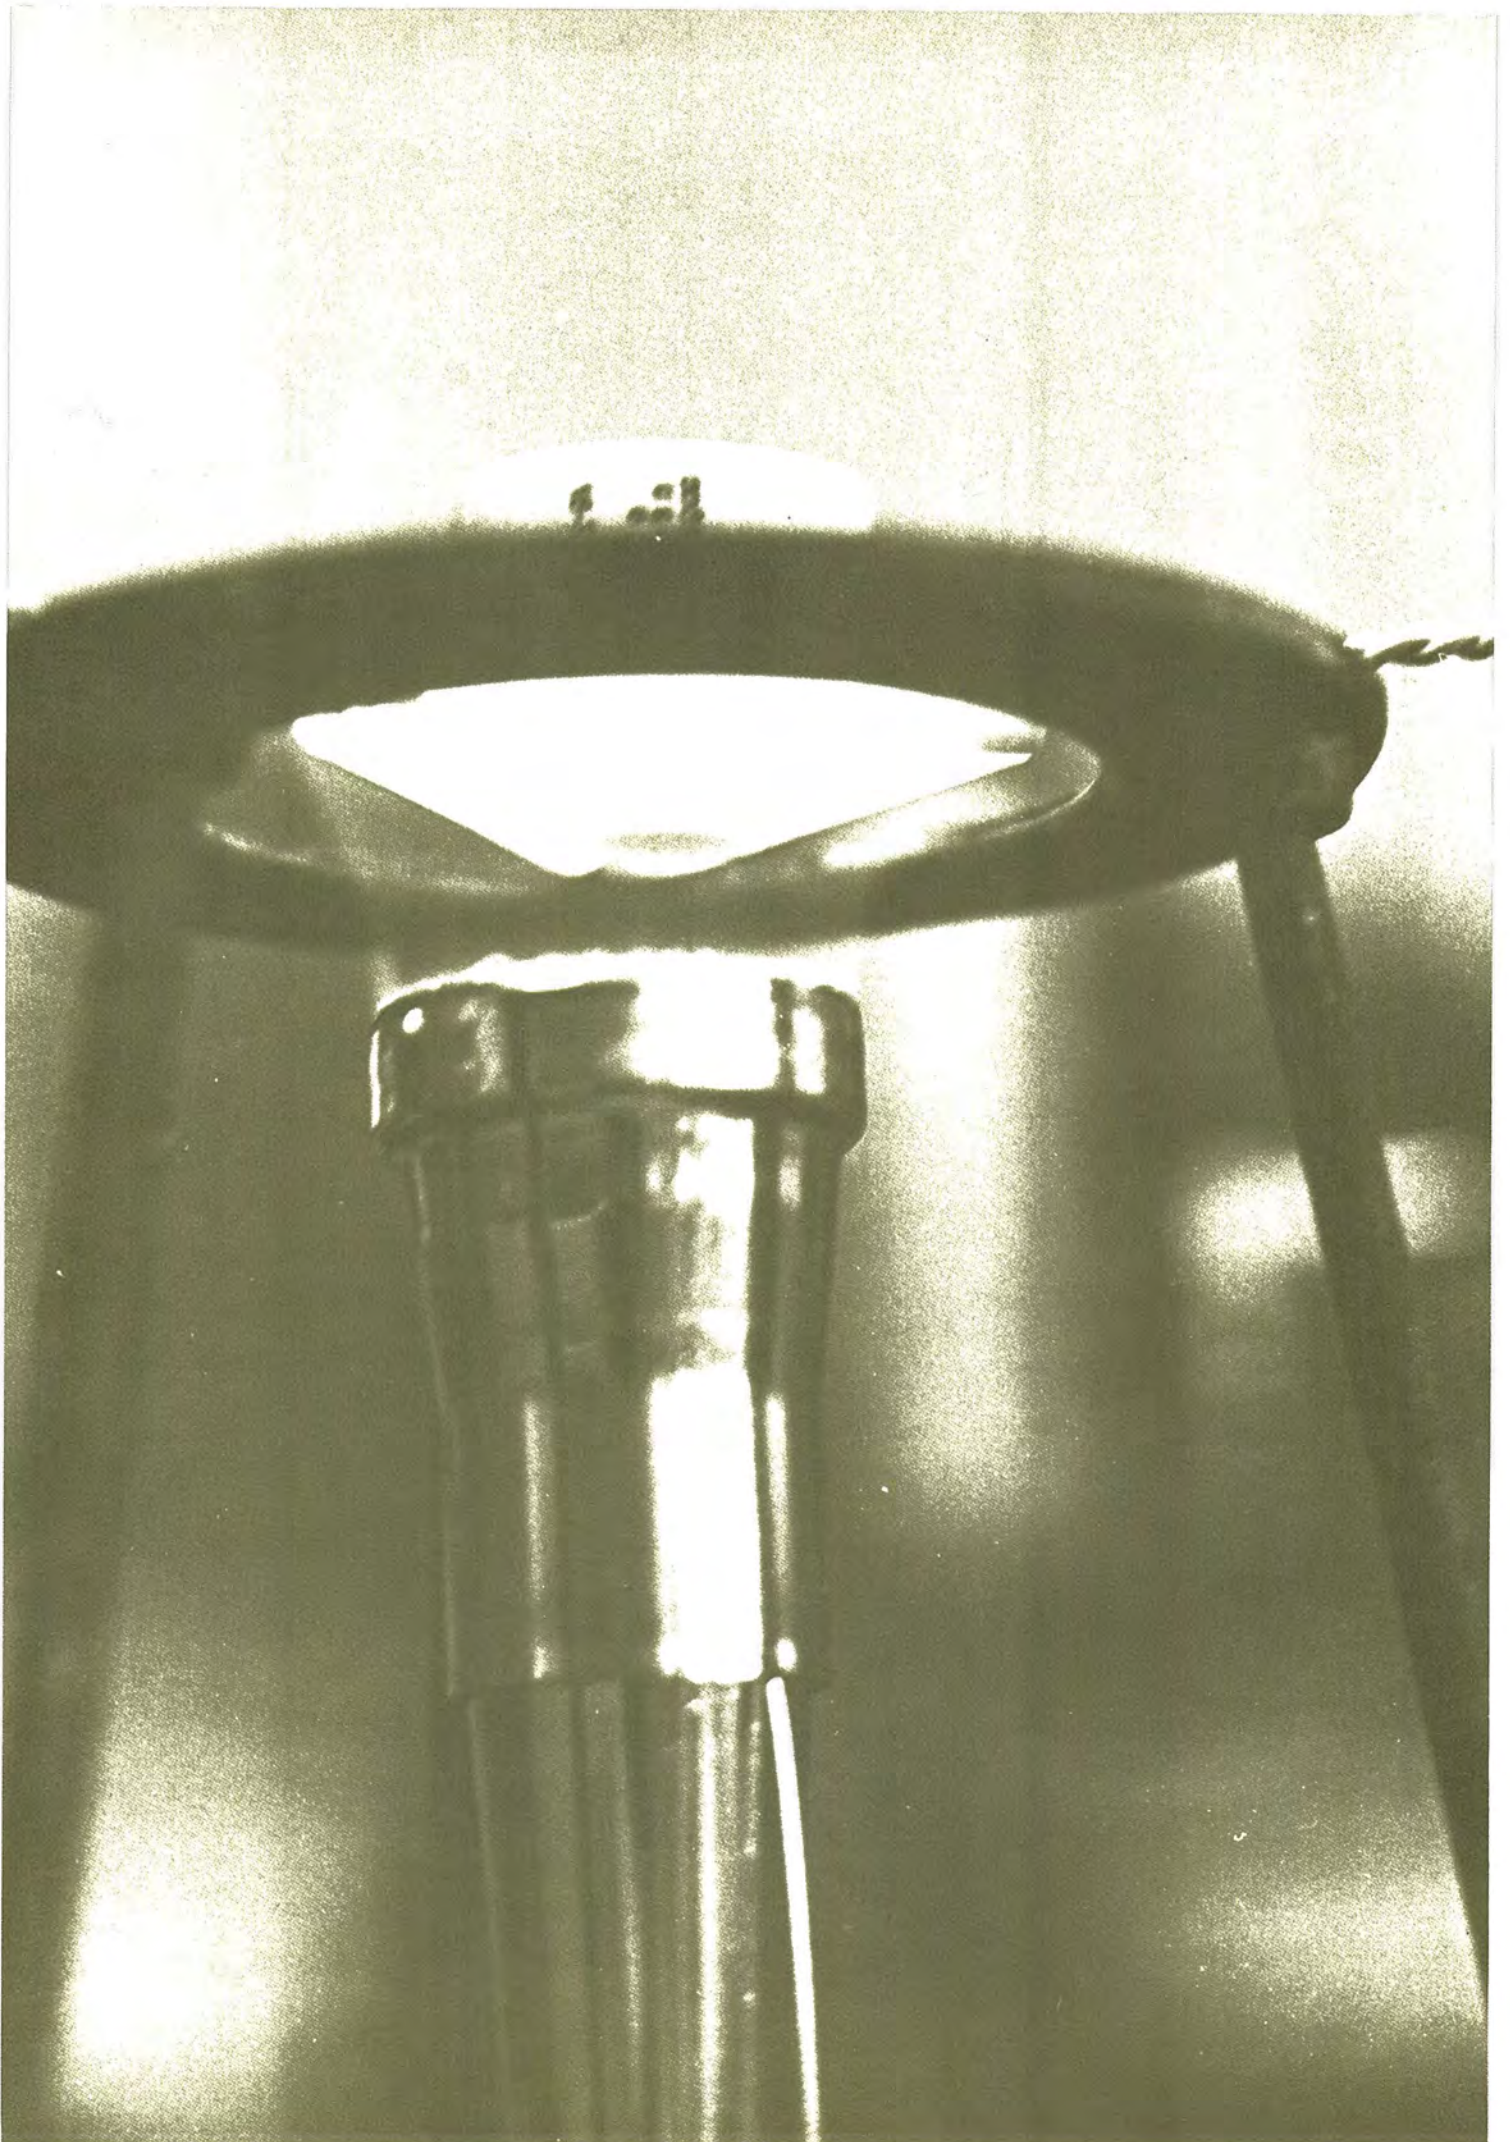

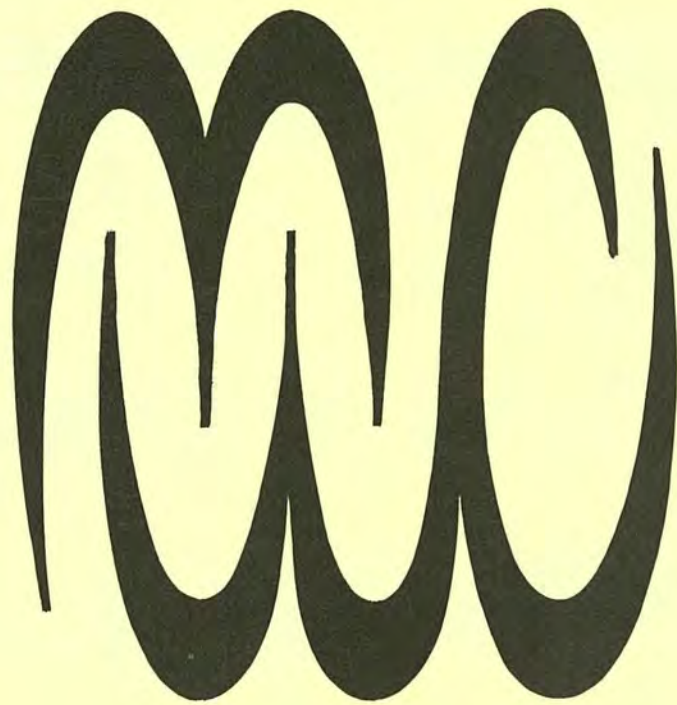

One of the new additions to the faculty, Jim Nix who also taught Judo.

The veteran of the entire Missouri Western faculty, Professor Frank Popplewell.

ORGANIZATIONS

Campus organizations provide students with an addition to the daily academics, a chance to express themselves in their particular area of interest creating a greater spirit of cooperation.

One of the functions of the senate is to handle the student voting.

A busy year for the MWC Student Government Association. The pains of progress have been noted with reorganization underway and several other studies undertaken by the students.

First Semester

Sigma Tau Delta Recognized

Sigma Tau Delta was the third Greek Group to be recognized on the Missouri Western Campus. The fraternity has been off-campus for several years.

Officers are Jim Thompson, president; Jon James, vice-president; Mike Debenito, treasurer; Larry Lawson, secretary. Pledge trainers are Phil Zaroor and Steve Dunlap with Monte Reinert as social chairman.

SGA candidates visit one of the Vet's Club meetings.

Veterans Club Forms

Another of the new organizations on campus is the Veteran's Club, a sign of the times. With the Viet Nam war underway and many young men serving in the military.

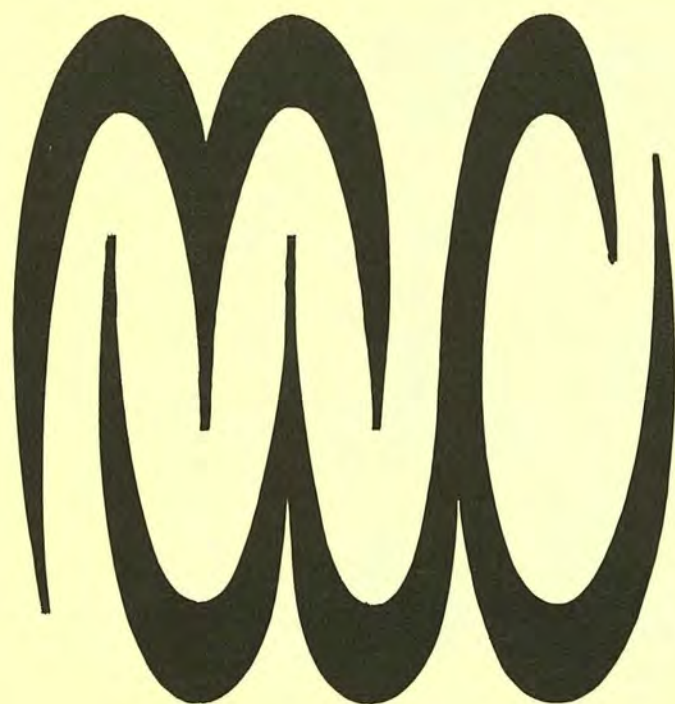

Officers are Wayne Justice, secretary-treasurer; Lynn Taylor, president; Bill Venable, vice-president.

Discussion of the issues.

ACTIVITIES

Extracurricular activities are planned because of the significant contribution they make to the education of the student. The objectives of general education are not complete unless some provision is made for student participation.

Editor's Page

This past year has gone by very fast for the Griffon yearbook staff, probably because we were constantly behind for our deadlines. But nonetheless, the 1968-69 yearbook is now completed and it is time to look back and examine our efforts in an attempt to justify minor errors and give credit to those who have helped produce this book.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Frank Smith, Director of Public Relations and Publications, for the unlimited aid he has given me for the past two years; sometimes I feel he should have been the editor. Also, my able assistant editor, Sandra Brown, and my photography editor, Bob Shier, who have added much. Staff members who assisted were Terri Johnson, Steve Schoen, Cheryl Beamon, Mary Joice, Pat McGlothlin and Bob Vaught. Other contributors were C. R. Bray and the Bray Studio, Bill Bennett for his outstanding basketball pictures, Vicky Jones, Ron Carlson and last but not least, Marcie Smith. My apology for those who have been lost in the pile of carbon papers and old pictures.

This was the last year of the "Concrete Campus" for Missouri Westerners. Next semester, we will occupy our new campus and the staff looks forward to putting out a much larger and better book to match the qualities of our new buildings. In the past two years as editor, I am sorry to say that only a handful of students have participated actively as members of the yearbook staff. New organizations, new activities, and many new faces will join us next year and the Griffon will appreciate any and all help the students are willing to give it.

In Memoriam

Dr. Thompson E. Potter

“The people of St. Joseph interested in Missouri Western College know the important part Dr. Potter played in establishment of the school. Missouri Western has lost a friend and so have I.” GOVERNOR WARREN HEARNES “The death of Dr. Potter is a loss to Missouri Western College. A board member of his caliber is difficult to replace. His number one interest was to help develop the best possible college for the area.”

Dr. Leon Billingsley
