FOREWORD

Impelled by a driving curiosity, a burning desire to know, we have come seeking wisdom. Not alone do we want the wisdom of books—the infallible reasoning of Aristotle, the superb dramaturgy of Shakespeare, the mathematical calculations of Newton, the social theories of Plato—we seek all this and more. We want that wisdom which will help us to live our lives that we may not only succeed materially but that we may be of lasting service to our fellowmen. So we present this, our book—a record, a preservation of our lives at Junior College—one milestone in our quest for wisdom.

THEY have given us the rules of the quest. They have arranged the course. They have designed the goal. They have started us on the way. To our Administration, the Board of Education, the Superintendent, the President, our Dean and our Faculty, we owe a debt of gratitude. They, too, have sought wisdom, and having filled their storehouse, generously have given of its treasure to us. So if only to pay our debt, may we keep the faith, finish the course, reach the goal!

The Junior College Student Senate, consisting of fourteen members elected by popular vote of the entire college, has as its goal and purpose to secure cooperation between the administration and the student body, to make laws for the student body, and to further interest and enthusiasm in Junior College traditions.

Eligibility for election to the Senate is based upon both scholastic ability and personal conduct. The 1931-32 Senate has truly been representative of the student body. It has turned attentive ears to suggestions from both the administration and the student body. The accomplishments of the year include the creation of the Athletic Council, the sponsoring of all college activities—the dances, "prowl day," the school publications and presentations, and the general supervision of the conduct of the student body.

The Council is composed of the following representatives: Senate, Gene Thompson; basketball, Cecil Kariker; track, Louis Groh; tennis, David Wall; golf, Billy Cormany; intramurals, Jack Rice; girls' athletics, Jeanette Eaton; honorary advisors, Miss Nelle Blum and Coach Frank Popplewell.

It is the purpose of the Athletic Council, which was created this year by the Junior College Senate, to act as a clearing house for all athletic problems and to maintain an active interest in athletics. The intramural sports manager, his assistant and the cheer leaders will hereafter be chosen by the Council.

A committee, comprising David Wall, Jack Rice, and Billy Cormany, acted as hosts to the visiting basketball teams during the past season. The Council sponsored the awarding of letters, the holding of athletic banquets, and the arrangement of all honor activities connected with athletics.

Each spring the old ballot box appears in the lower hall, posters are tacked up, personal cards are passed about, speeches are made—the campaign for student offices is on. It is by popular college-wide vote that these much sought-after posts are filled.

The officers of the student body automatically become the officers of the Senate, the governing body of the college. The student president presides on all formal occasions, at student meetings, at convocations, and at Senate meetings. The vice-president presides in the absence of the president, and supports the administration in all that it attempts. The secretary preserves a written account of the activities of the entire year.

The student officers endeavor to bring about greater harmony and understanding between the student body and the administration.

While no degree may be offered by any college giving less than four years of work, still the Junior College of St. Joseph is authorized by the State University and the State Department of Education to give associate certificates to graduating sophomores.

Sophomore students are those who have at least twenty-eight hours to their credit, or have been officially transferred from another college in which they had sophomore standing.

Students graduating from Junior College are admitted without examination to junior standing by all mid-western state universities and several eastern colleges.

Sophomore officers are elected each year by popular vote of the class. Besides sponsoring the "Ice Breaker" for the freshmen and competing with the freshmen in athletics, the sophomore class carries on few activities of its own, as all school activities are carried on jointly by the two classes.

To the freshmen, wearers of green caps! A strong and happy band came to college. They have stayed to carry on, to help fill the honor roll, to become pledges to Phi Theta Kappa, to enact drama, to report news, to participate in athletics.

Truly the freshmen have brought with them fresh vigor and new strength. They have participated whole-heartedly in all the activities of the college. They have been motivated by a burning mental curiosity, by a desire to succeed.

Freshmen are those students who are regularly enrolled but who have fewer than twenty-eight hours of work to their credit. Any student who has completed the standard high school course offered by the St. Joseph school system or any other accredited high school may enter junior college as a freshman without examination.

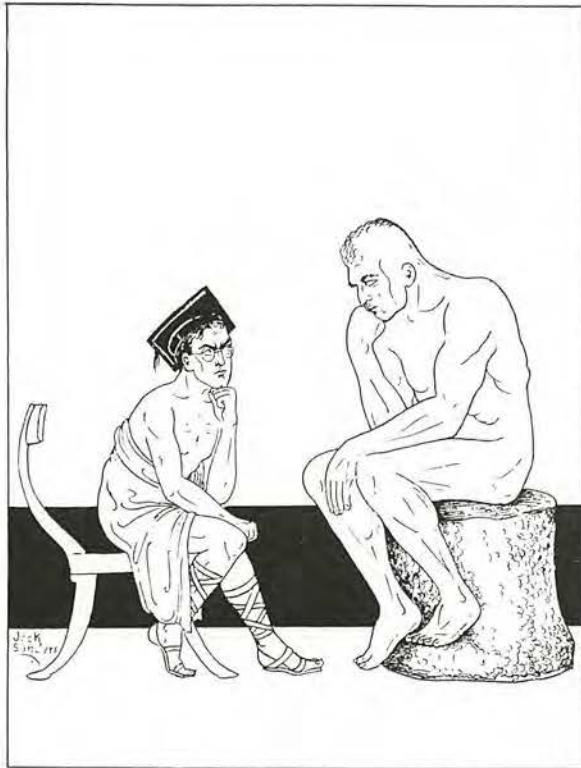

CLASSES

WE COME as joyous, irresponsible Freshmen. We don the green caps with a careless laugh. We stay to shoulder responsibilities, to learn the hard lesson, to become serious-minded Sophomores. Two distinct classes are we, Sophomore and Freshman, divided by a feeling of superiority, by a sporting rivalry, yet truly joined and unified because we travel the same road, we seek a common goal—to live wisely.

ATHLETICS

THE LOVE of the game, the thrill of the conquest, the joy of winning—our Junior College athletics have played a vital part in our quest for wisdom. We have learned teamwork, the best for the whole, not the glory of the one. We have experienced defeat, as well as gloried in winning; but we have learned to lose with a smile and to win without boasting.

Junior College athletes take an active part in intercollegiate competition, especially in basket ball and track. Sixteen scheduled basket ball games were played this year and a number of track meets were entered. Intramural sports offer competition between both classes and individuals.

Completing the 1931-32 season with only three games lost out of sixteen scheduled, the Griffons enjoyed one of the most successful seasons of basket ball in the school's history. This was Coach Popplewell's first year as mentor, and with a wealth of material he formed a smooth-working team. Two of the team's losses were received at the hands of powerful four-year schools, Maryville State Teachers' College and Nebraska Wesleyan of Lincoln.

The team was composed of three former lettermen and nine freshmen letter winners. The squad elected Cecil Kariker and Henry Whitaker co-captains at the beginning of the year. James Nash was basket ball manager, and Jack Herner was his assistant.

The season was opened by a decisive win over the Dentists of Kansas City by a score of 22 to 9. It was not until the second game that the Griffons' offense began to function smoothly.

The third game was carried out on Chillicothe's large court where another decisive cage duel was chalked up by a 40 to 13 score. Kariker was the offensive star of the game. Whitaker, Lewinson and Thompson rang up many of the two-pointers.

Returning home for a four-game stand, the Griffons won three court battles and dropped one to the powerful Maryville Teachers. Cape Girardeau Teachers were the first to fall for a 21 to 19 count. Then the cagers from Kansas City, Kansas, Junior College suffered a 31 to 18 setback. The sixth game, a special court attraction with the Maryville Teachers, was the Griffons' first basket ball loss of the season by a score of 38 to 9. The Clarinda team met our leather-tossers in such a mood that they were unbalanced by a tally of 46 to 17. Ruley, Smith, Gibson, Thompson, Reece, Schindler, Whitaker, and Kariker starred in these encounters.

The strong Griffon cage machine annexed five more wins from Graceland, 42 to 32; Chillicothe, 36 to 21; Conception, 38 to 26; Graceland, in new Central gym, 26 to 21; Western Dental, 25 to 23; before they lost the thirteenth game to Nebraska Wesleyan by a 25 to 29 score; Clarinda was then defeated for the second time by 23 to 19, and the Griffons journeyed to Kansas City, Kansas, to lose their last game by a 27 to 24 rally of the Kansans.

Smith, Whitaker, Ruley, and Thompson were the leading scorers for the Griffon team.

The Griffons won second place at the Baker Relays held at Baldwin, Kansas, April 24. Ten junior colleges were entered. Shreck won the high hurdles and Biggerstaff placed first in the shotput.

Kidder Junior College secured 67½ points to take a dual meet held at Cameron on April 30. Biggerstaff led the Griffons with 18 points. Ferris won the mile and half-mile events. Groh won the quarter-mile and placed second in the 220-yard dash.

Graceland College of Lamoni, Iowa, won another dual meet 63 to the Griffons' 58 on May 15. Biggerstaff was successful in the shot put. Kariker won the high hurdles. Groh took the quarter-mile event, stepping the distance in 54 seconds. Jutten placed second. In the 880, the relay team made up of Biggerstaff, Furse, Groh and Jutten, nosed out the Graceland team by only a short distance. Jimmy Nash was track manager.

A black "J" on a gold sweater identifies the "J" Club, the association of Junior College men who earned a letter for participation in inter-collegiate sports, as a student manager or as a cheer leader. It is the purpose of these sons of J. C. Griffon to cultivate loyalty to the college among its students, to preserve the ideals and traditions of Junior College, to promote and regulate athletics and to encourage the exhibition of good sportsmanship in all activities. The "J" Club granted life-time passes as prizes to the winners in the annual sale of basket ball season tickets, and to all Junior College letter men. A new feature of this year's organization is to be the issuing of certificates of membership which will present a record of each holder's activities in sports while in the "guidance of the Griffon of old."

Intramurals

The 1931 tennis team, consisting of Roy Dawson, Joe Morton, David Wall and P. L. Bowersox, completed its season with three matches won and four lost. Grace-land College was defeated by scores of 4 to 2 and 5 to 0. Tarkio defeated the Griffons 5 to 0 and 3 to 2. Kansas City, Kansas, Junior College was defeated 2 to 1 here and won 4 to 1 there. William Jewell won 4 to 2.

A full track schedule is open to anyone in school. Each man competes individually and all points won are counted toward the intramural trophy awarded each spring.

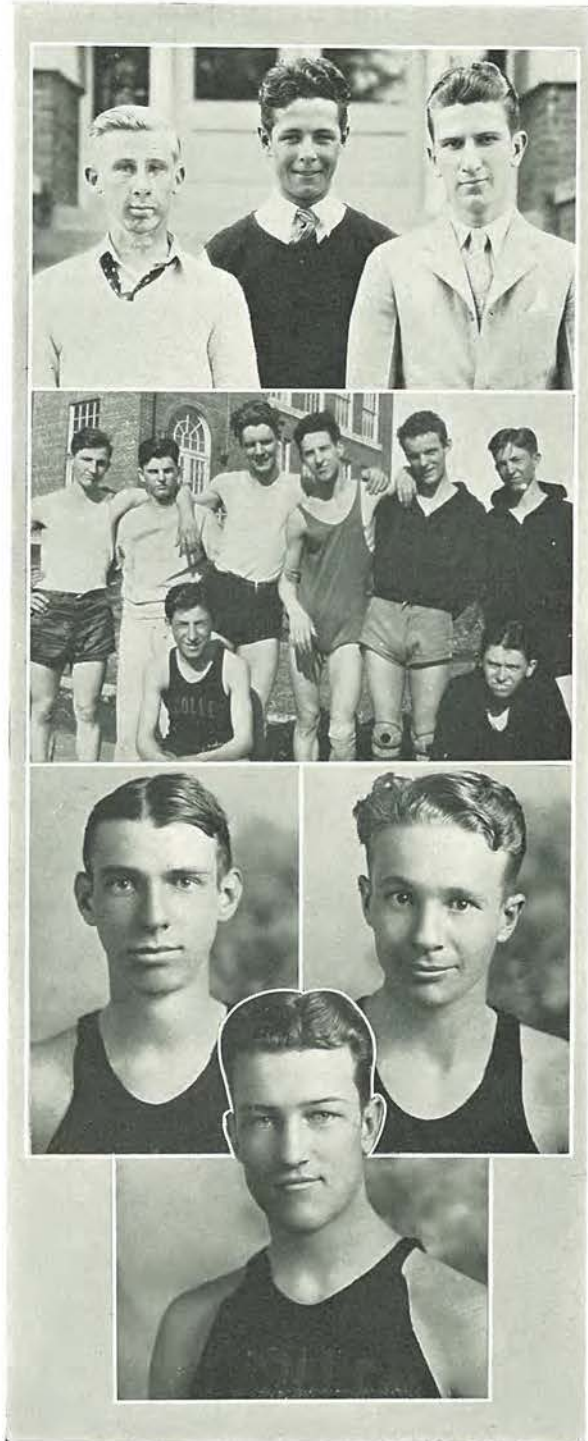

An elimination tournament is held to determine the winner in horseshoe pitching. Usually about fifty men enter. The first place winner gets three points, second winner gets two points and third place winner gets one point.

Intramurals

The golf team representing the school in 1931 consisted of Levin, Curtis, and Fleming. Curtis and Levin won from Tarkio; Fleming and Curtis won from Graceland College. Curtis again defeated Graceland in a later game.

Players in the round-robin basket ball tournament are selected to play on the class team. Usually three games are played by the class teams, but only one was played this year. The freshman team won.

Reece, Kariker, and Schindler were high point men in intramural competition in 1931.

Minor Sports

Do we have swimmers? I'll say. We also boast of several Senior Lifesavers.

Marguerite Parker, now a student of M. U., won last year's intramural trophy.

Madeleine McDonald is our advisor. Can you question the reason for our success?

"Hello world," say our hikers. "We really go places and see things."

No wonder our tennis tournament was successful. Just look at our manager.

Can our horseshoe pitchers throw ringers? Just let one of them white-wash you in a game.

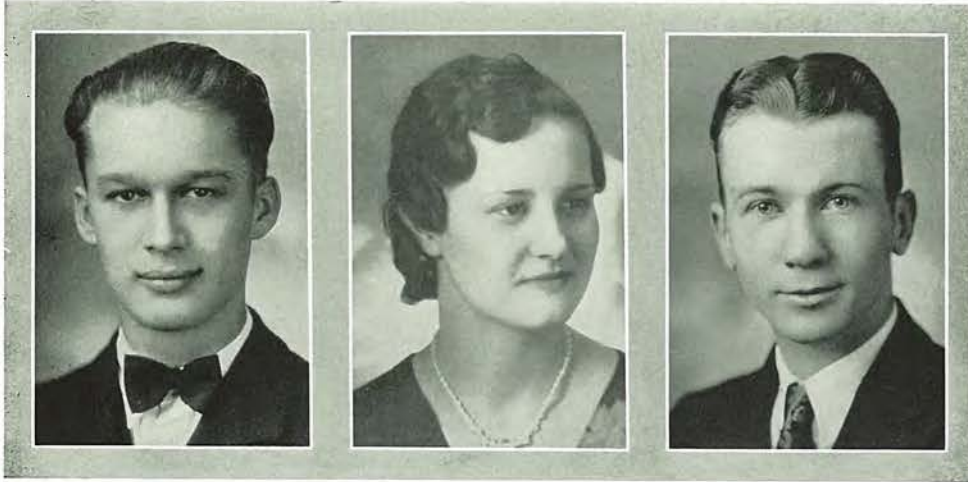

ORGANIZATIONS

IN RECOGNITION of your splendid scholastic record—," "due to your outstanding participation in school activities—," "to carry on the ideals and traditions of this organization—," these words have ushered us into one of the most valuable phases of our school life—because through our organizations, our scholastic fraternity, our literary club, our dramatic league, and the many, many others, we have felt the weight of responsibility, the necessity of cooperation, and the joys of association.

Each member of the Griffon staff may select an assistant. As far as possible, the important staff positions are given to these assistants the following year. The collection of the money to pay for the publication of the Griffon and the work of publishing the book is taken care of entirely by students, under the direction of two faculty members selected by the dean.

Slightly in excess of $1,100 was spent on the 1932 edition of the Griffon. The money is made from the sale of advertising, copies of the book, and space in the book to organizations of the school. All money is collected by the business manager and turned in to the Registrar. Bills are paid by the college office upon the approval of the editor and the business manager. Several companies are asked to submit sealed bids for the printing, engraving, and photography of the book. All contracts are awarded on the basis of the bids.

The Griffon News is issued by the student body each month and reflects and preserves in print the activities of the entire college. Work on the paper is entirely elective and voluntary. The working staff is always subject to change and promotion in recognition of satisfactory work.

The Griffon News is a member of the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association, takes part, and makes entries in the annual Press meets held at Columbia.

This year the Griffon News became a member of the National Scholastic Press Association. To be pledged to Phi Theta Kappa is the highest scholastic honor of our college. Phi Theta Kappa is "our intelligentia." Its fine purpose is "to encourage high scholastic standards, to develop character, and to cultivate fellowship among the students of both sexes of our Junior College." The membership of Phi Theta Kappa is limited to those students who have a general average of S or above, providing the group does not become thereby larger than ten per cent of the entire student body.

The fraternity holds formal initiation each fall and spring. The initiation service is quite elaborate and impressive befitting the honor bestowed by entrance to the fraternity. Meetings are held each month; the time is devoted to miscellaneous programs and to business. Phi Thetas are set above and apart, yet they are active and interested in the affairs of the college.

With this noble purpose ever before them, the club holds discussions on problems that the modern girl must meet, combat, and transcend. Each month the club endeavors to do some type of social service work for the betterment of the community and their own characters.

One of the outstanding activities of the year's program is the Mother-Daughter banquet. It is an annual social affair given in honor of the mothers of the members. This year the club gave a party for the Northwest Missouri Colored Orphanage. This is a new event on the organization's list of activities. The purpose of this group has been to create and foster interest in and encourage the study of natural science in the St. Joseph Junior College and in the city of St. Joseph, also to build and support the Children's Museum.

One of the outstanding activities of the club during this year was the presentation of Major Philip Martindale of the Yellowstone game reserve in an illustrated lecture, "Geysers and Grizzlies." The lecture was open to anyone in the entire city who is interested in natural science in general and the St. Joseph Children's Museum in particular.

Each year this club presents some lasting gift to the Children's Museum; very often it is in the form of a standard fireproof case in which to enclose the various valuable collections of the museum.

The Spanish Club has for its purpose the endeavor to develop greater fluency in speaking the Spanish language and to create a spirit of greater sympathy for Spanish-speaking peoples by studying their native lands and customs.

La Lucecita of '31, '32 has truly found and served the spirit of sympathy in their adoption of the Bravo family from Old Mexico. Last fall the Spanish Club found this family to be in desperate need of food, clothing, bedding. The club fell to work; a fund which each day provides the Bravo family with milk was begun, clothes and bedding were collected, provisions of food were sent.

At Thanksgiving time, there was a brimming basket of food. For Christmas food was provided, also a decorated tree and gifts for each member of the family. With the coming of spring the Bravo family was given seeds and plants with which to make their own garden.

The purpose of the Mace is to reward achievement in Junior College and thus to stimulate successful participation in worthwhile college activities. This year Ferris Spoor, Virginia Clark, Martha Lisenby, Joseph Morton, Milton Herman, and Homer Bowman are members.

Spoor was class president, advertising manager for "Holiday," business manager for the "Singing Girl" and a member of the Senate. Clark was a member of the Griffon News staff and took part in "Holiday" and "The Admirable Crichton." Lisenby was secretary of the Senate, a member of the Griffon News staff and took part in "Holiday" and "The Admirable Crichton." Morton was president of the Senate and editor of the Griffon News. Of this, their work, they have said: "We of the International Relations Club have created the Anne Lowell Wells Scholarship Fund in memory of Miss Wells who has given to us, as a sponsor, her ideals and her great store of knowledge."

To become a member of the club, a student must have completed one semester's work at Junior College, must have completed five hours of social science, must be carrying at least thirteen hours of work and must have an average grade of M.

Parlez-vous francais? Or do you struggle, ejaculate, and then pass on, never to know when a French phrase pops up in the novel you are reading? The members of Le Cerle Francais never have such an experience because it is their purpose to learn to speak the French language correctly and more fluently, to serve as a means of bringing those interested in French closer together and to stimulate an interest in France, its people and its literature.

The club takes an active part in the sponsoring of international friendship through correspondence with students in France. Names and addresses of French students are supplied the club by the George Peabody Teachers' College of Nashville, Tennessee. At the bi-monthly meetings of this group interesting letters received from France are read and French plays are read and enacted.

To read and discuss distinguished literature and to write now and again is the purpose of this group. Requirement for entrance is based on the exhibition of a literary sense through an oral appreciation, a written one, and an original piece of creative writing.

Probably the most outstanding activity of the Cheshire Cheese calendar is the publishing of Penny Whistles, the Junior College literary magazine. It was last year in 1930 that the Missouri Methodist School of Nursing became affiliated with the St. Joseph Junior College. The student nurses are enrolled in a three-hour course in the chemistry department of the college under the instruction of George H. Duerksen, head of that department. In this way they receive training in a field of work for which the hospital school is not equipped.

It is believed that the Junior College is in this way giving a real service to the community by helping to train more efficient nurses for our hospitals.

The student nurses are regularly enrolled students. They pay the regular laboratory fee and a tuition fee if they are over age or live outside the city. They do not pay any activity fee and so are not permitted to take part in student activities. The course in chemistry is given merely to help the student nurses in their work, and is not given full credit by other colleges in advanced work.

"The students of today will be the teachers of tomorrow." This old adage certainly holds true in our education classes. However, the course not only is a study of how to teach but includes daily a period of actual practice teaching in the lower grades of the public schools.

The Teachers' Guild purposes to secure first hand information of the teaching profession. Its purpose is realized through the medium of practice teaching. Each member of the department is sent to the grade schools of the city to observe a professional teacher for four weeks, after which time the student teacher for a period of five weeks does actual teaching for an hour each day.

So often we see a "Second Grade Reader" in its bright green jacket under the arm of a J. C. student or often we may hear—"There's the cutest little boy in the third grade at Neely"—"Don't you think it's fun to teach?"

The Boot and Spur, made up of the riding-minded young women of Junior College, was organized in the fall of the first semester of 1931. Their purpose has been to create an interest in riding, to encourage friendship, and to promote good sportsmanship among the students of the college.

To these feminine sportswomen riding has become the sport—the most thrilling thing they do. In fact, the wearers of the Boot and Spur have gone "Horse-Crazy" whether it be Chloe, Mr. Jack, Jane, or Billie—the main thing is just that it's one of Roscoe's horses.

The club annually presents two one-act plays at convocations which they sponsor. During the first semester of this year, the presentation was a charming play of the French Revolutionary days in which Betty Scovel, Bob Coy, and Billy Hinds gave finished artistic performances.

At the regular meetings of the club, this year, the theatres of the continental countries were studied—the plays themselves, the playwrights and their particular technique. Two of Eugene O'Neil's one-act plays were read at the meetings—these were "Ile" and "Before Breakfast."

To all who sing and love to sing, Mixed Chorus says "Welcome, join us." Admission, of course, is subject to tryout and approval of Mr. Elliott. Membership is open to both young men and young women, hence the "mixed."

This organization is noted for the very lovely and impressive Christmas program which it presents annually. This year's offering, "Songs of the Nativity," was particularly sacred and uplifting, sung in the Christmas spirit. The group also "went a-caroling" to the homes of the sick and shut-ins.

Each year the cast for the annual operetta is drawn very largely from the talent of the Mixed Chorus so that the second semester of mixed chorus is very operetta-minded. This year's Mixed Chorus has gone "Naughty Marietta" in a big way. Most of the chorus are members of the Apollo Society.

The chorus was started the first semester of 1931 by Raymond Elliott, head of the music department. Before that, little interest was shown in activities of this nature. Although an attempt had been made several times before to form a chorus, it had never met with much success.

About thirty people reported for chorus when the call was issued last year. They met twice a week and voted to do their work without credit. Interest in the chorus has been extremely high from the time the first program was given. Besides appearing on several convocation programs, giving a Christmas program, singing on the radio, and making several other public appearances, the chorus presented Victor Herbert's operetta, "The Singing Girl," during the first year of its existence.

This year the membership of the chorus is more than twice as large as last year, and the second semester showed an increase over the first. Although one hour's credit is given for chorus this year, many members who did not need the credit met with the group and took an active part in the work without credit.

The chorus has been invited to sing at the Missouri State Teachers' convention at Kansas City next fall.

"The Admirable Crichton"

A treat for all Barrie lovers—a finished execution of lines for drama lovers—the primitive adventures of love on a South Sea Island for everybody—that was our 1932 all-school play, "The Admirable Crichton," from the pen of Sir James Barrie, loved for his charming quaintness.

We will long remember the remarkable characterization of the production. Bob Coy, in the title role of Crichton, reached almost professional heights. Billy Hinds was unforgettable as Lord Loam, while Larry McClure was one constant laugh as Ernest. Betty Scovel was her sweet and lovely self as Lady Mary, the heroine of the play.

FEATURES

O THE carefree joys we're known! To those moments when we've forgotten classes, courses, lectures, and have gone gayly off to seek pleasure along with wisdom! These have made school what it is—the happiest part of our lives! The picnics, the hikes, the field trips, the famous campus couples, the antique Fords—silly nothings we've laughed at and loved and remembered.

THE VITALITY, the exuberance, the liveness that is the soul of youth, is beauty. So to these youthful queens of beauty, to beauty in its fresh, unspoiled state before life has lined and marred, hail!
