A Word In Advance--

This year the members of the Griffon staff have departed from traditional policy. Not satisfied with the usual type of formal group picture, they have endeavored to obtain a moving record of life at St. Joseph Junior College. Possibly they have not given the fullest recognition to all elements, but always they have emphasized that which they believed to be of most lasting interest without subordinating too much the lesser features. They have done this because they sincerely believe that primarily the educational institution they attend is something more, and perhaps finer, than a mere aggregate of de-personalized individuals. The pages following will show whether or not they have succeeded in presenting a truly representative study.
