Dedication...

We dedicate this book to the faces and names enclosed herein.

Also we dedicate it to mankind.

We dedicate it with the simple and sincere prayer that we may go forth to forge a world of peace.

That we may grow strong in a world friendship.

Knowing that knowledge is the basis of peace, we pray that we and man have learned the lesson well.

GEORGE L. BLACKWELL, Superintendent

Without the splendid work of the Board of Education and the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. George L. Blackwell, our schools would not be the fine institutions of learning that they are. The tireless effort of this little group keeps St. Joseph's school affairs running smoothly, and they are always on hand when matters of emergency come up. Junior College, as well as all the other schools in the city, owes a huge debt to these fine people.

Miss Nelle Blum is not only Dean of the college, but a friend of every student within St. Joseph Junior College. She is sincerely concerned with the welfare of all the students and is never too busy to give attention to trivial matters if they concern the well-being of any student.

She is respected and liked by everyone and each student feels that with his college future in her capable and experienced hands, he will have the best that is offered. This year marks a year of great progress for St. Joseph Junior College, and much of that progress is due to our Dean.

NELLE BLUM, A.B., M.A.

EDGAR C. LITTLE, B.S., M.S.

Mr. Edgar C. Little, Dean of Men, has quickly earned the respect and liking of the male students. His work as vocational advisor has helped many students continue their college education, when it might have been impossible without his help. Much of the credit for any progress made by Junior College in 1948 rightly belongs to our capable Dean of Men.

Mace

Election to the Mace is the highest honor a Junior College student can receive. Established in 1936, this honorary society was organized to encourage constructive student activity in the service of the school. Members of the Mace are chosen by the retiring members on their record of service to the school and participation in school activities.

Phi Theta Kappa

Phi Theta Kappa is the national scholastic honor society for junior colleges. To be initiated into this fraternity, a student must maintain an average of S plus for one semester, and to remain a member in good standing he must not allow his grade average to fall below an S. This year Kappa Chapter was able to send four delegates to the national Phi Theta Kappa convention in Pueblo, Colorado. A report of this convention was given members and guests at the formal initiation banquet April 8 at the Oakford Tearoom. Miss Marian Harvey is the club sponsor.

Junior College Senate

All student body activities are planned and carried out by the student senate in which both freshman and sophomore classes are equally represented. The student senate endeavors to establish harmony between the administration and the student body while carrying out laws that will be of the most benefit to teachers and students alike.

This year the senate has sponsored several dances in addition to the customary Icebreaker Dance which is held at the beginning of each school year. It was also active in the creation of a pep squad and a student courtesy committee.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Helen Brown, wishes to promote fluency in the practical use of that language as well as to develop interest in Spanish-speaking people. Meetings are conducted entirely in Spanish, and programs consist of that which will further the purpose of the club. One particularly interesting program was arranged by Barbara Hayes who visited Mexico during the Christmas holidays. She showed the club some movies taken in Mexico, including some spectacular scenes of bull fights and the new volcano, Paracutin.

French Club

Membership in the French Club is made up of advanced French students with a desire to improve their practical working knowledge of the language through informal meetings which are held monthly. Both the business meeting and the program are conducted entirely in French to increase the resourcefulness of the students in expressing themselves. At one of the meetings a short play was presented illustrating an American's "mastery" of the French tongue. The club is sponsored by Miss Clara Albrecht.

German Club

Sponsored by Miss Clara Albrecht, the German Club hopes to develop students' ability to use conversational German. It also hopes to promote understanding of German culture and the German people. Meetings are conducted in German which is also used in the songs and games employed in the program.

Griffon News Staff

Every two weeks brings forth another issue of the "Griffon News." The first semester of the year, the "News" was in the capable hands of Lois Simmons and Peggy Griggs, with Robert Poolman as assistant editor. When both Peggy and Lois graduated at the semester, Robert was faced with the job of getting the staff together and continuing to get the paper out on schedule, which he did with the help of a faculty advisor, Richard Taylor, journalism instructor at Central High School. Staff members work on a voluntary and extra-curricular basis to keep their fellow students informed of school events and entertained by the numerous feature articles.

Griffon Yearbook

For several years J. C. has been without a yearbook. This year a group of determined students got together and the result is the annual which you now have. Work on the book began with an intensive selling campaign during the first semester, in which the high salesmen were Ray Seever and Rita Cianciolo. Next came the album photographs of the individual students which were handled by Allegra Lile, and finally the editorial phase under the direction of Shirley Walsh, literary editor, and the co-editors, Alfred Wenz and Rose Mary Lillig. Advertising and circulation were handled by Don Mason and Kenneth King.

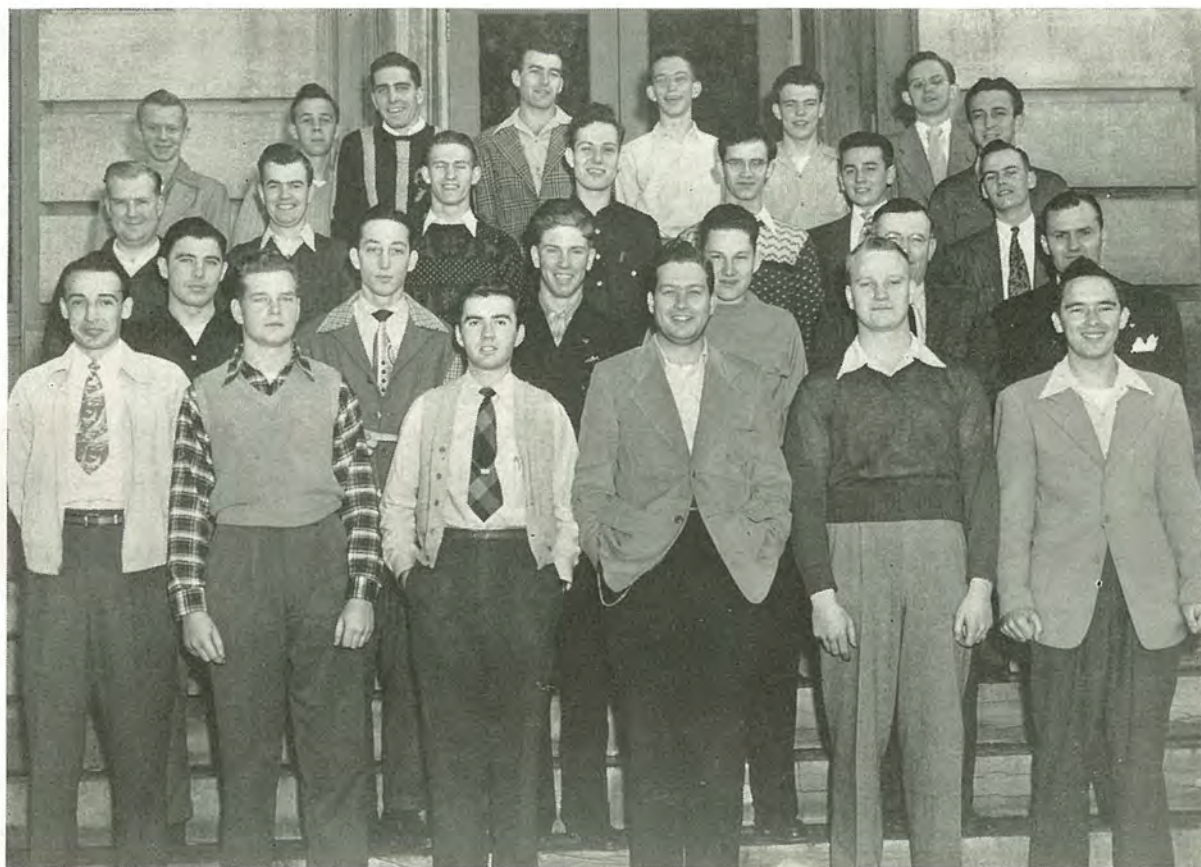

Although work on the book was time and energy consuming, cooperation from staff members, faculty and students allowed the job to be done. Now that the yearbook tradition has been renewed, it is hoped that it will remain.

Men's Club

The Men's Club was organized at Junior College this year to give the male students a chance to get to meet together informally and plan various forms of recreation and school activities. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Edgar C. Little and Mr. Don Doolin, the club held an all-school dance early in the year, and took over the handling of the Friendship Train collection which was very successful.

Newman Club

The Junior College Newman Club was reorganized this year at the instigation of a group of Catholic students who recognized the value an organization of this type would be to the students at J. C. Membership is open to all Catholic students, and the programs are planned so as to carry out the broad objective of the national Newman Club Federation — "to deepen the spiritual and enrich the temporal lives of its members through a balanced program of religious, intellectual, and social activities." Among this year's activities were a picnic and a dance to which the entire student body was invited. The Rev. John Quinn is chaplain of the Newman Club.

Natural Science Club

The purpose of the Junior College Natural Science Club is to encourage the study of natural science and to assist in furthering the advancement of the St. Joseph Museum, which this club founded under the guidance of Miss Orrel Andrews, sponsor. In order to raise funds to further this latter purpose, the club members this year have devoted much of their time to the sale of school pennants, T-shirts, beanies, tags, and seals. Part of the proceeds from these sales went to publish the St. Joseph Museum News Letter, and part of them to the Natural Science Endowment Fund, established in May, 1945.

Psychology Club

Increasing students' interest in and knowledge of the science of psychology is the purpose of the Psychology Club which is sponsored by Mr. Don Doolin. Doctors and other persons with a pertinent knowledge of the subject often speak at the meetings, and group discussions on the psychological aspects of various situations are held. Anyone who has a sincere desire to learn more about the ever broadening field of psychology may gain admission to the club.

Junior College Voters' League

Any student of Junior College may be a member of the Voters' League if he desires further study of local, national and international problems of the day. These problems are thoroughly discussed pro and con at the meetings, to the enlightenment of many who would otherwise see only one side of a situation. A particularly interesting convocation was put on by this club on the question of outlawing the Communist Party in the United States. After the formal presentation of the affirmative and negative points of view, the question was thrown to the floor for general discussion. This group is sponsored by Miss Lillian Watkins.

Dramatics Club

Miss Louise Lacy sponsors the Dramatics Club whose purpose it is to encourage appreciation of the drama. One of their activities for this year was the presentation at convocation of Eugene O'Neil's play, "Where the Cross Is Made." The group has also written letters of commendation to theaters and movie studios for their attempts to present really good movies. Admission to the Dramatics Club is gained after careful tryouts which are held each semester.

Cheshire Cheese Club

The aim of J. C.'s literary club, Cheshire Cheese, is to encourage a genuine appreciation of good literature and to stimulate original writing by its members. The school magazine, "Penny Whistles," which is published each year by the club contains the best student writing as selected by the board members. This year the size of the magazine was considerably increased by the use of a larger size page. The use of black and white illustrations was also inaugurated. Serving on the "Penny Whistles" board this year were: Carole Chipps, editor; Marjorie Lane, Maralyn Shackelford, Charlotte Freedman, Shirley Walsh, and Miss Emily Wyatt, sponsor of the group.

J. C. Y. W. C. A.

This club is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. under the leadership of Miss Amy Ewan, and is open to all girls of Junior College. The purpose is to stimulate wholesome activities and to promote friendship through adherence to Christian ideals and teachings. Among the club's activities this year were the sponsoring of a booth at the annual Y. W. C. A. bazaar, putting up the J. C. Christmas tree and the singing of carols at noon during the Christmas season, and holding a series of pre-Easter services before school each morning during Holy Week.

Since the purpose of the club is to encourage participation in intra-mural sports for girls, various tournaments are played off during the year. Volleyball, basketball and ping-pong are the chief sports in which the girls participate. Miss Clara Albrecht, physical education instructor, is G. A. A. sponsor.

BASKETBALL SEASON

Under Coach Don Doolin in his first year at J. C., the Griffon basketball team made an outstanding showing throughout the season. They played a fast, consistent game winning 16 and losing only 6, a record which gave them the number two rating among Missouri junior college teams. St. Joseph was one of the teams selected to play in the regional basketball tournament at Fort Scott, Kansas, where the team gave a good account of themselves even though they were without the services of two of their tallest regular players. At the close of one of its most successful seasons in years, the Junior College team had garnered a total of 977 points compared with their opponents' total of 768, and of the six losses, four had been to the Moberly, Mo., team.

A "B" basketball team was organized this year coached by Bill Barton. They played in the Y. M. C. A. league and the preliminary games to the varsity games.
